THIS chronicle of facts and reminiscences of cadet life is respectfully tendered to our much admired instructor, Captain Porter Alexander McCray.

Combining good taste with temperament and energetic versatility, Captain McCray does things well. Through his efforts and vision, the "Recall" has been elevated to literary excellence and artistic perfection.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS BOOK

WE, the Recall Staff of 1935, have earnestly endeavored to present to the Corps a book that will accurately recall to the cadets the events that have taken place at this school during the past year. And if in years to come this Recall brings to the minds of former cadets pleasant memories of their school days, we have fulfilled our task.

CHARACTER: how aptly does that single word describe Colonel Roller to us. Kindness, understanding, and loyalty, all have a dominant place in his make-up; kind to all whom he meets, no matter what their rank or station in life; understanding of our troubles from the trivial to the great, and what is more, lending a helping hand to remedy our misfortunes; and loyal to his God and country and to the ideals and traditions of the school, all held sacred within his heart.

He is more than a teacher, he is a leader. Through the chaos of both studies and tribulations, he leads us forward, advising, sympathizing, and we follow, respecting first the man, second, his learning.

Sir, we salute you as a man, enabled by clear, straight foresight to select his high aims and ambitions and through his fighting heart and integrity, to reach his goal.

AMAN'S man, athlete, soldier, scholar, gentleman; in time of need, our greatest adviser; in time of trouble, our greatest aid; and always, our staunchest friend. To the Corps, our Commandant is a man without a flaw, though in helping us out of our difficulties, he admits his own failings, that our burden may seem a bit easier.

Unafraid to discipline any, gracious enough to forgive the errors of all, he guides us, leading us toward the path of right which he himself has so conscientiously blazed.

Whether teaching, admonishing, or lauding, he never forgets the other's side and interests. Any cadet able to stand firmly upon his feet and look

MAJOR C. S. ROLLER, JR.

COLUMNS ON FIRST STOOP

CLASSES

AT THE beginning of each year the Corps elects the student officers. Every class from the second year to the fourth year elects these officers, but the new cadets are given no voice in the elections. This is done because the new cadets are more or less unfamiliar with the old cadets and therefore they are unable to judge the merits of the boys. This job of representing the entire Corps requires men of strong character, loyalty, efficiency, ability, and manliness. All these qualities are to be found in every member of this student organization of '34-'35. Upon election, these officers automatically become members of the Honor Committee and also of the Athletic Association. Popularity is one of the dominating considerations for the nomination of these officers, but it is a popularity not founded on promises or merely personality, but popularity that is founded on sincerity, thoughtfulness, and honor. Augusta is always proud of her student officers because they are always real men, upholding the highest ideals and keeping the good name of Augusta beyond reproach. These men are selected not only because of these qualities but because they are men competent enough to recognize these standards and who will carry them to even greater heights.

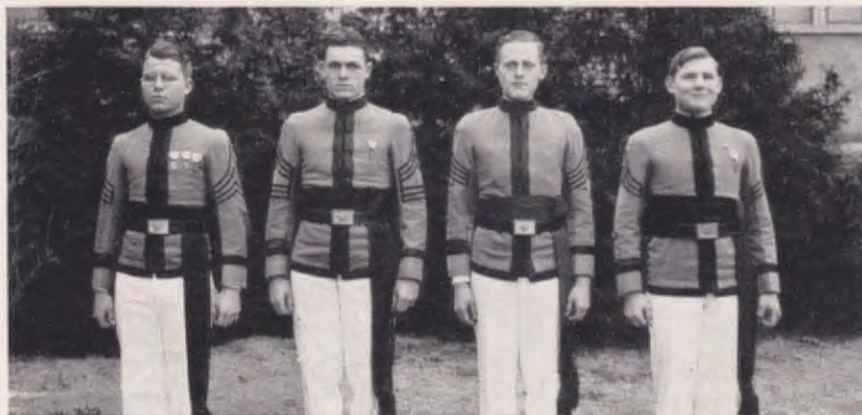

The honor of being president of this Student Body has fallen to Julian Quarles. Not a better man could have been elected to this position, and he has fulfilled this office to the letter. He leaves us this year with the respect and loyalty of every member of the 1935 Corps. Our Vice-President, Stuart Allen, has upheld his office with all the efficiency and dignity required by this important position, and to him is due the effectual running of the entire organization. When the corps selected Jim Miller as their Secretary, they picked one who entered into his duties with the intention of doing his work well in spite of difficulties and hardships. Jim is not one who looks lightly upon his work and by the example he set as a Secretary, we are not hesitant in saying that he is one of the best officers of this nature. As our "Banker", there is none better than "Ned" Somerville who held down this job with every qualification of a real treasurer. Anyone to whom a sum of money is entrusted is immediately stamped as a real man. One who is a square shooter and an honest friend. Together, these boys form a group that represents the best in Augusta. They are admired, respected, and trusted to the last word. As to their character, that is beyond reproach. What else, then, could be said? They have guided the Corps through one of the most successful years that Augusta has ever seen, and to them we extend our thanks for their ceaseless work in our behalf.

As a parting word, we would like to tell them that the doors of Augusta will always be open to them should they return.

OFFICERS OF THE STUDENT BODY

QUARLES, ALLEN, S.,
MILLER, J., SOMERVILLE, W.

GEORGE E. ADAM

WEST CHESTER, PENNSYLVANIA

GEORGE Edwin or "Minnie" as he is affectionately called by his many friends, came to Augusta with a family scholastic and attendance record. From his first year he distinguished himself in his fish like activities finally ending his career by breaking the pool backstroke record.

Our friend is one of the greatest triflers which this school has ever seen, but when the time comes to work he can put out as well if not better than the rest of us. His innocent looks together with his glib tongue have rescued him from many scrapes.

As a student, Minnie is par "excellence" and we are sure that he will be a success and a man whom we will be proud to call our friend.

Nickname—"Minnie"

Favorite Expression—"Humor Editor, ha, ha, ha."

STUART R. ALLEN

STAUNTON, VIRGINIA

STU" came to us four years ago, a young boy with plenty of ambition. This is one of the qualities that has helped him to get ahead. The admiration of the cadets is surely shown by the many honors that they have bestowed upon him.

No one would have thought that "Stu" was destined to become one of Augusta's best athletes. Not only did he excel on the athletic field but he stood in the upper half of his classes. He showed ability in the military line by becoming the leader of the C. W. company.

By his perserverance, grit, and his personality, he has won a place in the corps that will not be forgotten. "Stu" your place will be hard to fill but with the best wishes from the class of '35, we hope that you will have as great a success at Washington and Lee as you had at Augusta.

Nickname—"Stu"

"Rip"

EDWARD H. CARLAN
GALAX, VIRGINIA

RIP came to us from Galax two years ago and immediately accumulated many friends. He is rather quiet but wherever there is any fun going on he is usually mixed up in it.

Athletically, Rip's main sport is football but because of injuries he did not play regularly this year. He was undoubtedly one of the hardest fighters on the team and always could be counted on for a few extra yards. Rip does not confine his activities to football alone, in the classroom, he is one of the best, making the Honor Roll several times, and leading many of his classes. The same spirit that he showed on the gridiron is marked in everything that he undertakes and this is the reason for his popularity.

Well, "Rip", Augusta's again lost a mighty warrior and we all know that your place will be hard to fill. In parting we extend to you a most hearty and successful future in whatever you do.

Nickname—"Rip"

Favorite Expression—"Did You Hear What I Made in French?"

GILBERT R. COOK
1500 Chittenden St.
WASHINGTON, D. C.

WHEN "Cookie" entered Augusta two years ago, little did anyone suspect that he would turn out to be one of our best students. Gilbert's scholastic record here has been obtained by hard work and diligence.

Not only has "Cookie" excelled in the academic line but also in the military department of our school. He was made a corporal this year on account of his excellence on the drill field and his ability to "take charge".

A boy would not be well rounded unless he did something to develop his body. To do this, "Cookie" turned out for the swimming team and it was not long before he had won a place on the team.

As a friend, Gilbert is one of the best. Not only is he liked by all the old cadets but by the new cadets as well.

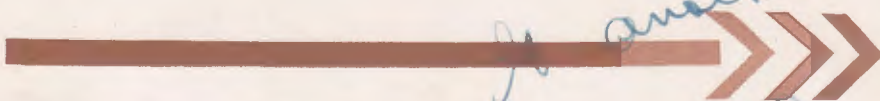

As you leave us, we know that yours will be success.

JAMES EDWARD CRASS, III
1701 N. Washington Ave.
SCRANTON, PENNSYLVANIA

EDDIE Crass, the oldest cadet in the time of attendance and the youngest in the graduation class, has endeared himself in the hearts of the boys by his engaging personality and by his manly character. We know that his place in the hearts of the faculty and as one of the best Captains in the Corps will be hard to fill.

Those who know him the longest are his best friends and the new acquaintances are his friends immediately. His loyalty to his school and to his friends is his outstanding characteristic. Willing and capable to aid in social, military, and academic matters, he has built for himself a secure place in the hearts of the Corps, and also in the hearts of certain young ladies about Staunton.

We feel sure that "Eddie" will be a great success in anything that he undertakes.

CLIFTON A. DAVENPORT
VICTORIA, VIRGINIA

THIS dark haired lad entered Augusta in much question and doubt as to what it was all about, but he soon learned and made acquaintances from the very beginning of school.

Davenport possesses a peculiar blend of good nature, humor, and dry wit, the latter of which is the predominating quality. He may not be lucky in love but he has a knack of being lucky at the right time in other games, so it is said.

His most likeable quality is his easy going manner at all times and especially his helpfulness around barracks. As he is the hospital sergeant, he is continually helping the boys in the infirmary.

As Davenport leaves us, we all wish him the, "Best of Luck".

IRVING F. HALL

LESTER W. S. HIGBEE

131 S. Main St.
PLEASANTVILLE, NEW JERSEY

IN the fall of '33 a young "Tar Heel" left his good old Dixie home to join the ranks of the Augusta Military Academy. This was none other than "Gus" Hall. He soon found a warm spot in the heart of every cadet. When "Gus" first arrived he showed much interest in the band and strange to say eight of the band's twelve clarinets have disappeared. He is the only person in the band that has a mouth big enough to swallow a clarinet; so now he is trying to explain why he swallowed them, which seems to be a very difficult thing to do.

"Gus" is also a member of the fencing team and a member of the A. M. A. orchestra. Although "Gus" hasn't fully decided upon which college he is going next year there is no doubt about his making good wherever he goes.

Good-bye "Gus", and best of luck to you always, and may you have great success.

Nickname—"Gus"

Favorite Expression—"I Hope You Die With—"

WHEN we can say of a man that he is loyal, generous, and faithful, he is one who arouses our admiration; but when we can add the words personality and dependability we have the very best that one can say of any man—and we have also Lester Higbee.

"Les" has been with us for four years and his record speaks louder than words. He graduates as a Lieutenant in the Corps, a varsity letter man in swimming, and one of our leading socialites.

"Les" has done more than his share in making the school dances an overwhelming success, not only by honoring us with his presence, but by being a loyal member of the Cotillion Club and helping whenever he was asked.

We have said nothing of "Les's" barracks life, but he has been throughout the year one of the leading "tower" members and always a true friend.

JOHN H. HODGES

Jamestown Road
WILLIAMSBURG, VIRGINIA

HODGES came to us in '33. Although he hasn't been with us but two years he has made enough friends to last him for a life time. There are only two things that trouble him—Staunton's fair sex and the Corporal of the Guard calling "203". As he is the bugler, "203" is called very frequently during the day and "Hodg" doesn't like to be disturbed when he is concentrating on his other big trouble. Sometimes he tells the C. G. where to get off as if the C. G. could stop the clock for just a few minutes to hold the call.

All in all, "Hodg" has no worry as to a successful future. He is studious and manages to keep out of academic trouble and worries.

As "Hodg" leaves us in June, we all wish him every possible success and we know he will succeed in college.

WILLIAM A. HOPKINS, JR.

310 N. Potomac St.
HAGERSTOWN, MARYLAND

IN the good old days of the "Rat" system a young lad from "God's Country" came down to the old Dominion to prepare himself for college. Immediately he adapted himself to his surroundings and soon became popular among his fellow cadets. His easy-going and pleasant disposition, his personality, cheerfulness, amiable nature and strong character make us all admire him. Whenever there is any extra work to be done or when a new cadet needs help we can always assure ourselves that Bill will be there to offer his services.

In his first year he won the 115-pound intra-mural boxing title, and has always been active in the athletics of our school.

We are all sorry to see Bill leave Augusta this year, but if he keeps trying elsewhere like he has at A. M. A. we feel sure that he will always meet with success.

HERBERT A. JACOB, JR.
FORT DEFIANCE, VIRGINIA

LOCAL boy makes good. "Herbie" came to us four years ago and has since distinguished himself in every branch of school life. As an honor student, "Herbie" was among the leaders of his class. On the football field, wrestling mat, and the baseball diamond he has become one of Augusta's great "Little Men".

Due to military excellence he was appointed 1st Lt. of "C" Company. Herbie's appearance at every "brawl", caused certain feminine hearts to go on a rampage. As further assurance of his social achievements, he was elected Secretary of the Cotillion Club, and took a prominent part in all social functions.

When "Herbie" leaves us in June, we can be certain of one thing; that wherever he goes there'll be "wimmin", for where there's "wimmin" there's "Herbie." But wherever he does go, the Corps of '35 wishes him all the success that he has attained during his four years at Augusta.

"Nickname—"Herbie"

Favorite Expression—

JAMES B. MANN, JR.
Frys Spring Road
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VIRGINIA

JUNE marks the graduation of Mann, better known around the barracks as "J. B.". He is a fellow who studies, works hard, and who always goes out for some sport. This year it was the Varsity Boxing Squad. During his first year, "J. B." won a place in the hearts of everyone he was associated with. He has always conducted himself in such a way that it is impossible for anyone not to notice his fine qualities that go to make up a gentleman.

"J. B." has never reached any great heights in his military work. Although he is still a private we must admit he is a good one.

After attending the University of Virginia, "J. B.'s" aim is to become a doctor, and knowing him as we do, it would be hard to think of him as anything else but a success.

As you leave A. M. A. this year you will leave knowing that the cadets wish the best possible luck.

Nickname—"J. B."

MARTIN G. MANCH, JR.
 223 N. Lewis St.
 STAUNTON, VIRGINIA

HAIL the A. M. A. Flutist, who for four years has created music and various noises for band and orchestra. Never was there a man so engrossed in his music as "Martini" who mixed his notes and Trig formulas, which caused much confusion. Between his music and love affairs, he has little time left for studies, but he always manages to find time for continual trifling. He can always make you laugh, and his cheerfulness will be missed when he leaves.

"Martini" is loved and respected by everyone and he would do almost anything for you. Although not an academic shark, he has proved his ability to master most subjects.

As an officer in the band, he won for himself a place in the hearts of those below and above him. He will be missed by everyone here as he takes his place with those of the graduating class.

EDMUND S. MATHEWS
 3447 80th St.
 JACKSON HEIGHTS, NEW YORK

FOUR years ago there passed through the arch a small boy from the North. Being very young, it was easy for him to get into the swing of the military life at Augusta.

During his first year, he was introduced into the social life at A. M. A. and now wherever the fair sex is gathered about, you are sure to see "Matt". He became very interested in athletics and he was an active member of the swimming team as well as the football and baseball teams. He has shown ability in his school work as well.

As the time draws near when we shall hear the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," we hate to think that he will not be back with us next year. We all wish him luck and we know that he will be successful in whatever he undertakes.

And now we must say Farewell!

WABAN, MASSACHUSETTS

DONE your Lit? As this question is heard, one knows immediately that he is in the presence of that "Bostonian", "Mouse" Matthews. Although not very large in stature, "Mouse" has in him everything that goes to make up a true cadet and scholar.

His healthy interest in athletics was shown this year by his winning the 115-lb. wrestling medal in the Intramural Tournament. "Mouse" was also one of the veteran "Peep" men and he was a sensation in his not too well fitting "Gridiron Armor", but as we all know, clothes do not make the man.

All kidding aside, we regret saying goodbye to such a swell pal. Seldom do we find boys in barracks with such fine qualities as he has.

It is with regret that we will have to say "Adieu" but we will be saying it to one whom we know as a "regular fellow".

Nickname—"Mouse"

WILLIAM L. McCLUNG

GLEN FERRIS, WEST VIRGINIA

BILLY entered Augusta four years ago, a very small boy with no unusual art to his credit except that of being able to torture a bugle.

As the years passed, all this was changed. He learned how to toot the old horn and for the next two years he was the official bugler. He also developed athletically; this year he was one of the important cogs of the swimming team. Academically, he has more than excelled and his name regularly appears on the Honor Roll.

The biggest change that has come over Billy is that the little boy of four years ago has changed his attitude toward the "Fairer Sex". When he first came to Augusta he was extremely girl-shy, but now he is the "Social Dog" of the school, and where there's a girl to be found, Billy is sure to be there.

Every boy at Augusta wishes Bill the best of luck, no matter what he attempts, because he is true to the core.

WILLIAM O. NUSSSEAR

79 W. Greenwood Ave.
LANSDOWNE, PENNSYLVANIA

"NUZZY" arrived at Augusta with the determination to make good and in this we all agree that he succeeded. "Nuzzy" was one of the strongest men in the "forward wall" of the Tiger Football Team and it was he who stopped many a line play that was aimed at the Tiger line.

Not only in the athletic department did he shine but his name appeared amazingly often on the Honor Roll.

Dependability, sincerity, and thoughtfulness, all are found in Bill's makeup. This is one of the reasons that he is admired so much by all the cadets in barracks, and it is this also that has won him a high place in the minds of all the Faculty.

Since "Nuzzy" rates a corporal in the Battalion we can justly describe him by that old phrase, "An Officer and a Gentleman."

Nickname—"Nuzzy"

Favorite Expression—"No! go buy some of your own".

STANTON R. PRENTISS

13 Timber Branch Drive
ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA

FROM Washington there came to Augusta one of the most ambitious boys this school has ever seen. He has proven this in his four years at A. M. A. His one ambition is to become a great musician in some orchestra, in which we wish him the best of luck, and we believe that he will succeed in it.

During "Rusty's" stay at Augusta he has excelled as a scholar, a musician, and an athlete which will always be remembered by everyone. When anyone was in the need of help he could depend on "Rusty" for aid, because he was always willing to help anyone and to give advice.

From Augusta "Rusty" expects to go to Duke, where he plans to take up music as a side line with his other subjects. As a true blue friend to everyone may he succeed in everything that he does in years to come.

Nickname—"Rusty".

Favorite Expression—"I'll probably play with Lombardo this summer."

JULIAN M. QUARLES

MIAMI, FLORIDA

"THE Sun will set on an empty barracks—" Ah, when we think of these words it brings us to the time when we will have to part with the most sincere and the most loyal friend with whom we have ever been acquainted. In person, Julian Quarles, within the short span of four years has obtained the admiration and respect of every cadet attending the school. He received the greatest honor that can be bestowed upon any cadet when he was elected President of the Student Body. Then, appointed Captain of "B" Co., he immediately developed it into one of the most outstanding companies of the Battalion. Julian, also a very fine boxer, was South Atlantic Prep Champion in '34 but because of disabilities was forced to retire this year..

Well, "Pres", the time has come when we must say "Adieu" and we want to express our sincerest wishes for the best of luck in later life.

J. FRANK TROTMAN

822 W. 5th St.

WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA

J. F. TROTMAN, "Captain of the tumbling team", or, as all of us intimately know him, "Don Casanova". This title was conferred upon him because of the many affaires d'amour he has had in and about Staunton with those of the weaker sex.

Frank, one of the leading tower politicians, is well liked by all the faculty and the whole corps. His achievements and honors in the scholastic, the military, and the social activities are to be envied by all, because his record is one that is not easily equalled. It was only by Frank's untiring efforts that we were able to have so many excellent dances this year and it was this same effort that made "A" Co. one of the best drilled organizations in the Battalion.

As space limits us, we must bid a fond farewell from all the henchmen, so we wish you, "The Best of the Best."

BASIL TULLY

40 Burroughs Way
MAPLEWOOD, NEW JERSEY

A MIGHTY person is our great "Tullinski". Whether on the football field, the baseball diamond or the basketball floor, he is always greeted by his school-mates. Everyone from the "buck private" to the highest ranking officer in school is proud to call Basil his friend. From Reveille to Taps he goes around barracks speaking good cheer as the saying goes.

Basil also finds time to get in a little studying. Even though his name does not appear on the Honor Roll, his marks are steadily in the high eighties.

Although "Tullinski" is not burdened down by great honors, he has certain honors that show his fine character.

He also holds down a corporal in the cadet corps and has quite a bit of military genius.

When Basil leaves us in June we will lose a boy of high character and we wish him every success possible.

"GUIDES POST!" When we hear this command on the parade ground we know at once that it is no other cadet than our own Capt. Adj. "Dick" came to us five years ago a very small boy, in fact he was the smallest boy in school.

As the years progressed we find that Dick has not only grown in stature but he has risen to be one of the highest ranking officers in school. "Dick" achieved this high rank by hard work in his academics and his ability to prove himself worthy of this rank.

"Dick" doesn't care particularly for the feminine sex but he doesn't avoid them either. He also has some sayings that he calls wit but the cadets have different ideas.

In the years to come we wish you all the luck in the world and may you never forget the days of old A. M. A.

 "Hildy"

CLEVELAND L. HILDEBRAND

306 N. New St.
 STAUNTON, VIRGINIA

It was in the fall of '33 when a dark and handsome young man, nicknamed "Hildy" entered into our midst. It wasn't long until he had won a place deep into the hearts of his fellow "keydets". In the varsity athletic line "Hildy" did not shine, but nevertheless he plugged away and made himself a very important factor of the "Peep" athletics. The band could not have been a success without the presence of "Hildy". Many afternoons mournful sounds can be heard from the band room. Should one inquire as to what these noises are, they would be informed that it is "Hildy" going over some "grand marches". "Hildy" has only been here two years and he has acquired many friends and in him we have all found a friend hard to equal. We are sorry to see him leave and here's wishing him success and happiness.

THIRD YEAR CLASS

WE MADE our début at A. M. A. three long years ago and were astounded when we were initiated into its scintillating "social life and many night clubs". We wondered where we would find time to study, but soon after we had donned the gray we found out. Two years have passed since we first saw and swore at A. M. A., but we were gluttons for punishment. Each summer A. M. A. seems to grip us with fond remembrances and we are no longer able to resist its magnetic appeal. We always enter smiling, but as the days lengthen into weeks, and the weeks into months, the smile fades. This change of mood, however, can not be long-lived, for soon we are again enthralled in this life. We must admit that it is cussed and discussed throughout the year, but, when Finals arrive, we defy anyone to find a single cadet who is not loyal to this grand old place. We all love and cherish it.

Most of us were rather small and young when we entered in the Fall of '31, but once we had been enshrouded with its spirit, we were A. M. A.'s. We were swept off our feet with this unusual school where everyone seemed bound together with fetters of steel.

This year has been an unusual one. We were well represented, and when we saw our friends of last year we knew without a doubt that this year was destined to be a successful one.

The year started off with a bang. Football was talked, thought, and dreamed. With the passing of the football season, only one thing was occupying our minds—Christmas. We reported off gleefully. We reported back regretfully. Now the days would be longer, for our next break would not come until Finals, excluding our lengthy Spring Vacation—Good Friday. The days were short and yet they were long. There were many things provided for us so that our minds (if any) would be kept occupied. What good were these things when we could sit in our rooms and think, think of—oh, well, numerous things?

Glorious Spring arrived and we were thrilled with the proximity of Finals. We lounged around under the influence of that intoxicating season. Our days of leisure were not long, for soon we were preparing for Government Inspection. Our memories were haunted with vivid pictures of past Finals and coincident with them we were busily asking ourselves, "Will I return next year?" It would be unjust to say that we wished to, for at present we were engaged in thinking of "cits" and college. It will not be long, however, when we are eagerly anticipating our return.

It is hard for us to choose; harder still to leave. Throughout the year some of us seem to try to be "hard-boiled". Now our true sentiments are unearthed, and we find ourselves fun-loving and A. M. A.'s adoring kids. Most people harbor in their memories their happy childhood days. We will always hold the days and hours that we spent at Augusta highest in our esteem.

SECOND YEAR CLASS

ON SEPTEMBER 22 we were back at A. M. A. and thoroughly enjoying our "old men's" privileges. After coming to our rooms and unpacking our trunks, we went out to welcome our returning classmates and friends. Our chests puffed out with pride as we swaggered down the stoops and into the courtyard.

Soon everything began to work smoothly and we settled down to the regular routine. Several members of our class began to distinguish themselves in things academic and athletic. The long awaited makeovers at last appeared with their surprises and disappointments. Now things really began in earnest and we governed ourselves accordingly. The first Holiday, Thanksgiving, brought a glorious day in Staunton and the defeat in football of our ancient rival, Fishburne. The next highlight, Christmas Exams, was followed so swiftly by Christmas Holiday that the fear and joy was hardly noticed.

The opening of our winter programs of sports and studies found many of us thinking of the "good old days" just planned, but we soon fell in with the program and life once more held present interest. The Mid-Winter dances signified that the winter session was over long before we had expected it to be. March Exams were now the main thought of the class and required all of our attention.

Good Friday and Founder's Day signified to us that the year was getting along at a rapid rate and served to warn some of us that Final Exams were not far distant. Heedless of the impending exams, many took up the time discussing Finals, "cits", femininity, and vacations. Many plans were made and, perhaps, some of them will be carried out. It was good to talk about them anyway.

The more serious considerations have not been lacking during the days past and the second year men can be serious upon occasions. The thought of Finals with its separations from our friends and school for even a short period gives us to "pause and think". To remember the good times here at A. M. A., the hardships overcome and the triumphs achieved, the friendships made and the hopes realized, are the more serious considerations of every A. M. A. boy and the second year class is composed of boys who are proud to lay claim to that distinction. So here's to the second year class! The class which will make next year's third the best class in the history of the school!

may yours be the heights of success - eds

FIRST YEAR CLASS

ON SEPTEMBER 19, a very timid group of boys passed through the arch for the first time as A. M. A. cadets; and the future of the school was placed on the stooping shoulders of this band of cadets who did not know the first principles of military and the things that go to make for distinction in school life. However, despite that self-conscious feeling that comes to a newcomer in any school, and the obvious fact that there was more to learn than we had ever tried before, the cordiality and friendliness of the older cadets and their evident desire to help us gave us a feeling of being in a school that we would soon learn to like.

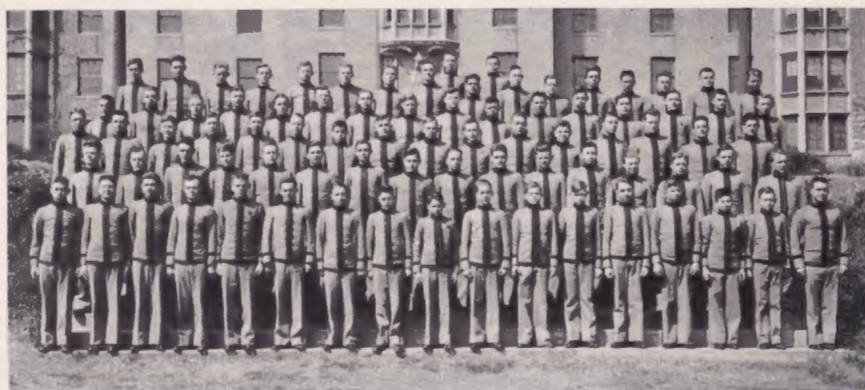

After the program began to get under way and we realized that many of our class would take prominent places on the football team, we began to feel that we really "belonged". When the first game arrived and we saw many of our brother new men taking the most prominent part in the athletic life of the school, we fairly glowed with pride. But athletics was not the only thing in which we shone. The Honor Roll showed many of our class among the leaders; so we all felt much better about the school and our place in it.

Christmas Holidays passed entirely too swiftly and we found ourselves trying to keep up the pace of a real winter program of academics and athletics. We were well represented on the basketball, boxing, wrestling, and swimming teams and the Honor Roll still grew with the names of the first year men. The second term exams were harder than the first and we settled down to two weeks of intensive study for them. Most of us came through with flying colors and a new zest for that "last long mile".

Government Inspection gave us a chance to show the school that the military life could be entrusted to us. We worked hard and came through it with distinction. Good Friday and Founder's Day broke the monotony for us and we settled down again for the final exams which in a large measure tell us what the year's work is worth. These were harder than the March exams and we were much better prepared to take them. Many baseball games furnished diversion for the whole Corps and we enjoyed them very much.

Now the year is over. Our little troubles and sorrows seem small indeed! We are leaving for home and vacation and looking forward to next September when we re-enter as Second Year Men. Nothing can ever take the place of our experiences of this first year and our memories will remain fresh, however old we grow or far we stray. We are sure that the first year at A. M. A. is one of the best that any cadet can spend anywhere and feel that the new cadets of next year are almost as lucky as we; for we will be second year men and take a greater part in the running of our school.

MILITARY

ONE of our most prominent and impressive features here at school is our capable and excellent military department. This department is under the able supervision of our new P. M. S. and T., Major Bonwell. This is the first year that Major Bonwell has been at

MAJOR BONWELL

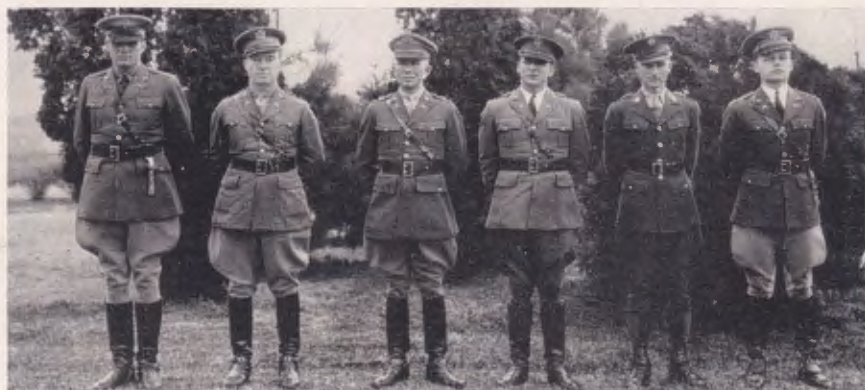

Augusta, but from the aspects of this year's corps, we are safe in saying that this year has been one of the most successful in regard to the military standing. Not only has Major Bonwell given every bit of his time in order to better us in the military line, but he has won the admiration of all by his sense of duty and by his respect and loyalty to our school traditions.

For five consecutive years this school has been selected as an Honor School, and this year has been no exception. This honor would not have been gained had it not been for the untiring efforts of our P. M. S. and T.

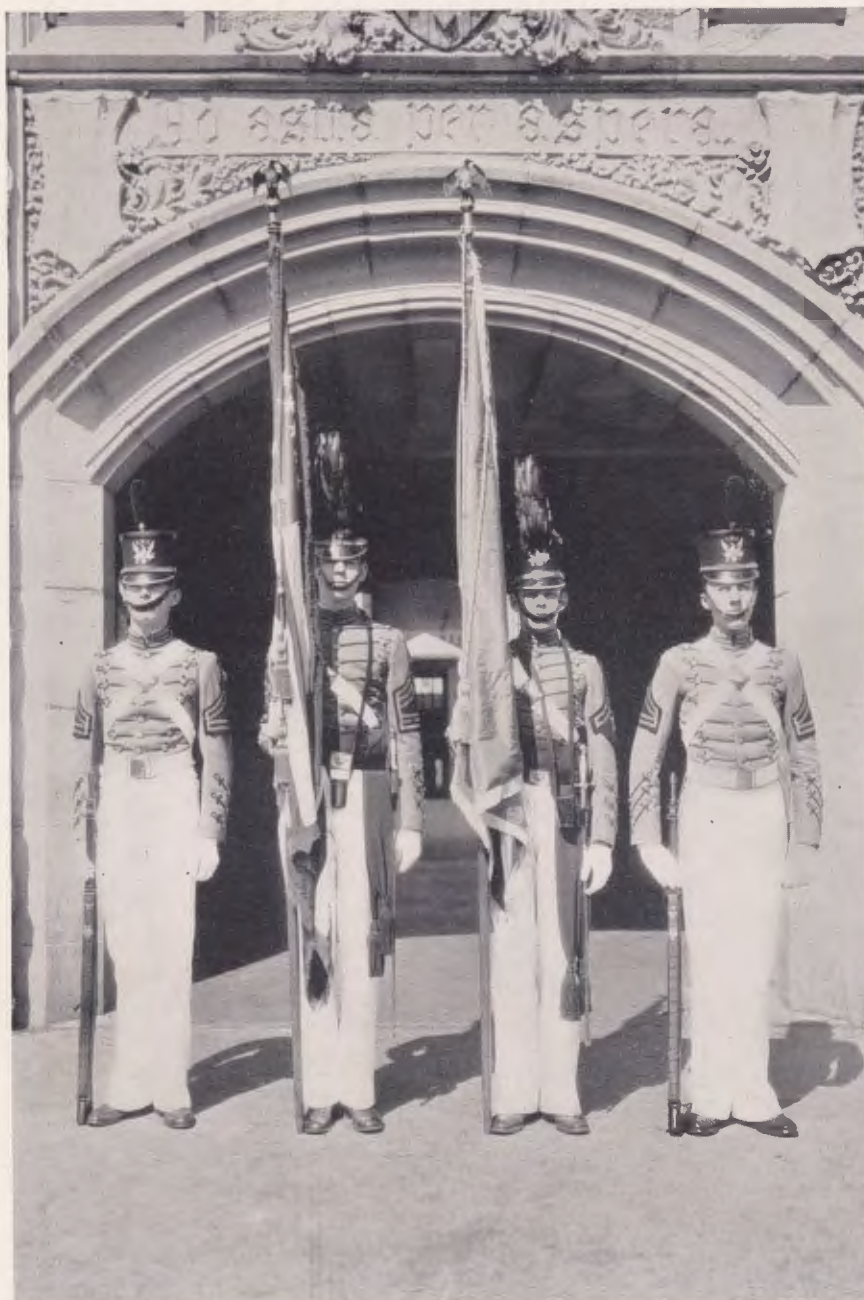

Not all this glory would have been possible without the worthy assistance of Lieutenant Caldwell, who has been with us since 1927. Because of his devotion to his work, he has been praised again and again by every cadet and faculty officer in the school.

We should also like to mention the beneficial work carried on by the other faculty members—Major Robinson instructs in the Machine Gun, Captain McCray in the 37-mm. and School of the Soldier, Captain Dunn in the three-inch Trench Mortar and Rifle Marksmanship, Captain Deane in the First Aid, Lieutenant Caldwell in the School of the Soldier, and Lieutenant Roller in the Cavalry.

We are all grateful for the work that these officers have done in our behalf and it was only through their teaching that we were able to have a successful military year. We wish to extend to them our deepest appreciation for their interest in us.

THE Staff is a very small organization, but in it, there are centered most of our military geniuses. As captain of this year's staff, Cadet Wilson has shown everyone that he is worthy of this honor. His display of tactics, his willingness to work, and his fine sense of duty, have made him one of our best staff leaders. For our First Lieutenant, we are fortunate in having Cadet Miller, W. He has shown his worth in every line of staff duties. Cadet Bosman, C., is our excellent Second Lieutenant. He has charge of the mail, and in this job he is faultless. There is no equal in our competent Sergeant-Major, Cadet Holloman. In his many duties he has never failed to do his best and that is practically perfect. To our First Sergeant, Cadet Seaton, we owe our thanks for the assistance he has rendered to the staff.

COMPANY A

J. F. TROTMAN
Captain

T. A. ROLLER
First Lieutenant

THE "A" Company of this year is not to be outdone by the other companies of the battalion. Old "A" Company is always out in front and has an iron determination to stay there. It consists of two platoons of well drilled men who know how to obey their officers and commands.

Our Captain also holds the title of Battalion Commander. He has risen from the rank of Sergeant Major to the highest rating man in the Corps. Captain Trotman holds a warm spot in the hearts of all his men, he is a good soldier and a fine gentleman.

Next in line comes the one who takes charge of the Company when our captain has other duties. He has a fine knowledge of military science and he lends his hand in helping drill the company. "Tommy" is also liked by the men in ranks and he is willing to do almost anything for them.

Commanding the first platoon is our good friend "Lester". He believes in strict military discipline and he certainly does enforce it. He does a good job commanding the platoon and we all will be sorry to say good-bye to such a fine fellow.

Commanding the second platoon is "Minnie", the famed backstroke champion. "Minnie" does his job well and we can all give him credit for it.

Our friend "Billy McClung" is the top-kick and he is able to be hard-boiled and still keep his friendship. He is small but loud.

Let's take a look around in the company. Ah, the right guide of the first platoon, Dale Mark, the best guide in the battalion, and he does deserve a gold medal for his efforts. Next we come to Benson McMechen, quite a ladies' man, especially when a certain young lady comes to visit the Colonel's daughter. Now let's go back to the second platoon, we find our good friend "Bill Robinson" when he reports his squad one usually hears, "Dis Heah Squad is All Present." He must be from the South. We must not forget the newly cadets who lend a hand in making "A" Co. perfect. They have been one of our biggest assets instead of detriments (as they proved to be in some of our other organizations). Oh, yes, lest we forget, speaking of the new cadets we are reminded of that memorable evening that our dear friend Doug Dillard came to ranks bedecked in the glory of all the medals that he had won in the past five years in grammar-school, summer camps, and Sunday school.

In athletics "A" Company excels. We have on the varsity football team Harry Wheeler and Joe Keegin both stars in every game. Swimming is "A" Company's best sport. We won the intramural Swimming Tournament by an overwhelming majority. On the "Varsity Swimming" team we were well represented by the following: Frank Trotman, Minnie Adam, Les Higbee, Billie McClung, Tom Tighe and Billie Robinson. "A" Company was never lacking in the athletic line.

Our boys take an active part in every phase of school life and some leading parts, academically, athletically, religiously, and military. In "A" Company is the leading "social dog" of the school. Our Captain is very much interested in the fair sex and sometimes meets with one that repulses him, but he seldom returns crestfallen. Frank sponsors all our dances, he himself is a "dancing fool" and is envied by all. It is rumored that a certain fair haired member of the weaker sex had him going and as a result she led the Thanksgiving Dance.

During Government Inspection "A" Company did its part. Often we exhibited the true spirit of being able to do hard work without a single complaint. We were complimented most highly by Major Bonwell and the other tactical officers. We feel sure that the same spirit will be exhibited finals when we drill for the "Company Cup" (the most coveted military trophy).

Thus we come to the parting of the ways. When we hear "Auld Lang Syne" and the voice of our captain saying "Dismissed" it will be with tears in our eyes. The band which ties the men of "A" Company is strong and will defy "Old Man Time" to break it. Many the years, perhaps even into oblivion will the spirit of "A" Company be carried, sealed tightly in the hearts of its stalwarts.

As we say good-bye, we extend to the future men of "A" Company best wishes and may they have a group of officers to serve under, as the all-around good officers of this year, and may the future officers have the ability to whip into shape another grand old company.

Now that the end is near and the days of hard work and toil are over, we are glad and at the same time sad. We are glad because in us rests the feeling of a task well done—we are sad because behind us we leave many friends and happy moments which will be valuable memories in our after life.

As time draws the curtain on the scene, we say to all our fellow cadets—May God help you in all your difficulties and may success follow you through-out your life.

COMPANY B

J. M. QUARLES
Captain

W. M. SOMERVILLE

"QUALITY, not Quantity." That is what makes an excellent company. That is also the distinction between "B" Company and the other companies in the Battalion.

Let us look over "B" Company and see who make up that noble organization. I am not going to try to relate every individual's honors as they are far too numerous to be narrated here. Standing in front of the company we find our esteemed Captain, "Pres" Quarles, the best C. O. in the Battalion. From the rank of a line sergeant, which is the office that he held last year, he rose to the position of the second highest rating cadet in the Corps. This should be sufficient proof of his ability to exercise command. Behind him stands our first lieutenant in charge of the first platoon, "Strangler", "Dreamer" Somerville, our only strong and silent type. Who is this we see and hear (mostly hear) in the file closers of the first platoon? Did somebody say "Jimmy Durante"? No, it's only our old pal, rough, tough, and nasty First Sergeant "ET TU" Farnsworth (pronounced Farnsworf). There on the right flank of the first platoon we see a noble fellow, standing with his mouth open and his lower lip dragging the ground. This, ladies and gentlemen, is none other than "El Puerko" Byrd, who is without a doubt the best natured boy in barracks. "The Hog" is rating platoon sergeant in the company and in the battalion. On the right flank of the second platoon is Platoon Sergeant "Bucky" Clarke, who is the only guide in the battalion who can start off on the wrong foot and yet not throw the whole platoon out of step. Which only goes to show what can be accomplished by a "B" Company man. As for line sergeants, we have only the best. "Legs" Wales and "Sammie" Miller guide for the first platoon, while "Handsome Herman" Wheeler and Platoon Sergeant Clarke lead Major Roller's best platoon. The corporals are also "The Cream of the Crop" we have in our midst Corporals Cook, Clyborne, Tyler, Moulton and Payne, F. We have also with us two "Busted Aristocrats", ex-corporals Carlan and Souffront.

Now for the main constituents of the company, the privates. Among the old cadet privates there are many qualified for the position of corporal but who have not been made because of the lack of vacancies. There are also many "military genius'” among the new cadets of “B” Company. Perhaps you wonder where that laughing and talking is coming from in the second platoon. Without any hesitation any one can tell you that it is Tyler, Wheeler, and Carlan. Oh, oh, here comes “Battling Fernon”, Gale, and Bowden, all three are late to ranks. Fernon still maintains that he “didn’t have time”. Blackshear still claims that he only spends two hours daily on his shoes and that he isn’t trying to get a drag with the Major. Smith swears he shines his shoes for every formation. What’s this, Foreman cleanly shaved, without being told?

MRS. J. M. QUARLES

Among the men in ranks prevailed the usual amount of high spirits and trifling, but this was an asset rather than a set-back. It can only be said that in a pinch they came through. Of course, it is only fair to say that periodical buck-ups were imposed upon us regularly during the year by the hard-boiled Tactical Department. But is there any company who has not gone through these trying experiences?

We are not so much when it comes to the social part of the school, but if you haven’t been to one of our bull-sessions you have missed one of the species of Life. If you want any information on Einstein’s latest theory, or hints as to how two may live as cheap as one, if you would care to discuss cars, cigarettes, girls, books, or even the problem of what Major Roller is going to do next—come around, son, and we will set you up.

The pen will now turn to the serious side. We have been fortunate in not having lost any of our original officers, and remain under their competent guidance. As a leader our captain has demonstrated throughout the year a sense of fairness and spirit of leadership surpassed by none. The same praise may be extended to the other commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the company who have given their loyal support and best efforts to the company. The privates in their turn have also put forth their best efforts, all of which work together in putting “B” Company on its present high level.

In looking back over the many pleasant days spent together in clean fun and comradeship, I, writing as a representative of the men of “B” Company, will always be proud to say that I came from the “B” Company of ’35.

COMPANY C

J. E. CRASS
Captain

H. A. JACOB
First Lieutenant

THE "C" Company of 1935 is one in which the school should readily be proud. It went into every phase of the different activities and generally came out on top, whether it was on the drill field or athletic field. The boys in "C" Company this year were of superior quality, very seldom complaining, always going wholeheartedly into everything that they had to do. As a result nothing but praise could be given them.

"C" Company, at first, though handicapped by having the smaller boys in the second platoon, has really done remarkably well. The boys, though small, always took a great interest in their drills, and at the end of school will probably be put on a better close order drill than any other platoon in the school. We are expecting great things from these boys in the competitive drill at Finals.

In the intramural boxing, wrestling, and swimming tournament "C" Company again bestowed glory upon herself and may I say that this was largely due to efforts of the small boys in the second platoon. "C" Company after getting a slow start in the swimming tournament, came back strong in the end to take both the wrestling and boxing tournaments. Among the winners in the tournament were such men from "C" Company as Joe Carrillo, Tommy Cauthorne, "Mouse" Mathews, Tom Culton, Wharton, Robinson, and many others of equal ability. These boys deserve a lot of credit for the fight which they showed, which incidentally was typical of their work throughout the year.

The boys in "C" Company should also be complimented for the co-operation they gave the Tactical Department during the drive for Government Inspection. Quite often it was necessary for the boys to go on many field problems and other things equally unpleasant and never once heard a complaint from any of the "C" Company boys.

But bear with me while I tell you something about the officers of this fine organization. First there was our Captain, "Eddie" Crass. Eddie, aside from being a fine boy, was a great company captain and was liked by all of the boys in the company. Eddie seemed to know how to get the best out of the boys and do it in a nice way. Eddie also was a great attraction for the feminine sex. On many a Sunday afternoon the heart of a certain little girl at Mary Baldwin skipped several beats as Eddie strutted down the field at dress parade. And then there was "Herbie" Jacob, the First Lieutenant, who had charge of the first platoon. Next there was Jack Cason, who was the Second Lieutenant. He had charge of the smallest boys in the battalion, in the second platoon. Jack, although slightly harsh with these boys at times, proved to be a great lieutenant and was liked by all his men. Sam Matthews, the "White headed Matt", had the policeman's job of First Sergeant in "C" Company. This he did well and was never too harsh or too lenient with the boys. Our Platoon Sergeant, "Kitten" Somerville, was a great fellow and an excellent officer. Aside from this he could always give valuable information on how to play a bass fiddle or what the well-dressed man should wear. The greatest mistake that we could find was the fact that he was constantly altering his uniform to meet with the latest styles in "Esquire". With such fine officers it is apparently no problem for anyone to see why "C" Company was such an outstanding organization.

The hardest thing which the boys have to do comes at the playing of Auld Lang Syne, when they have to part. We have all gone through the different paths of school life together and it is indeed hard for us to part. Many lasting friendships have been formed during the course of the year's training. Some of these friendships are among boys who live near each other and may be continued in the same manner as at dear old Augusta. Others, sad to relate, have to be dropped, because of the distance which lies between the boys, preventing them from seeing each other very often. To the boys in the last case remain only the memories of the happy days spent at the Augusta Military Academy.

BAND

J. I. MILLER
Captain and Drum Major

J. M. MANCH
First Lieutenant

THE corps may talk about the band being a "crip", but that is easily understood, because of jealousy and lack of ability. Jealous because of the snappy appearance, dignity and pride; all of which this company possesses. Nothing strikes a boy's heart more than a strictly military band strutting down the field with that certain air of sophistication. It is, indeed, an honor to be in such an organization. What would happen to the boys if there were no band for inspection, parades, and drills? Just these few points prove the necessity of such an organization.

As for being a "crip"—the band is anything but that! It is just one practice after another for days and days, but this is something you hear little about. During no drill periods, this company may be found in the band room practicing, sweating, cussing, and practicing some more. This becomes very tiring and boring, but this is only a part of its work and only tends to bring out the character of its members.

The above, however, is only a minor part of this prominent organization, the major part being its officers. For our captain and drum major we have "Slimey" Miller. "Slimey" may truly be defined as a friend, companion, and pal to each member of his company, and, incidentally, he gets the best co-operation and results. Our First Lieutenant is the original, happy-go-lucky, care-free "Junior" Manch. "Junior" is quite an extraordinary musician, playing the clarinet and sax in both the band and orchestra, spending his spare time studying "trig". Then comes our second Lieutenant, "Side Center" Prentiss. Prentiss still carries on the good work that has made him so noticeable in the past. As for his musical ability, we find him leading the school orchestra—"The Melodians". "Humbug" Offutt and "José" Shomo are our able sarges. With Offutt goes splendid disciplinary ability as well as an original way of writing reports; and to Shomo we solemnly give the title of the "model trifter". Next in line come our Corporals, "Mummy" Hodges and "Rhumba" Edge. "Mummy" is our bugler—the lad that so kindly awakens us with the sweet, soft, melodious notes of reveille. As for Edge, he easily earns the name of "Rhumba" because of the original rhythm he gives to the pipe or the harmonica. All of the glory does not go to the officers, however; the whole backbone consists of

MRS. J. I. MILLER

the privates, because of their co-operation, interest, respect, loyalty, and ability.

And now we have the person who "is" The Band; namely, Captain Martin Manch. Were it not for tireless effort on his part, there would have been a poor imitation of a band this year. Having lost the more experienced members of the band from last year's graduating class, Captain Manch was confronted with the problem of new men, who for the most part, had never marched before. These were only a few of the complications that Captain Manch had at the beginning of the year. However, it was not long before he had the band in shape, and we were playing the pieces of last year in a very competent manner. As time went on, the band showed a distinct improvement, both in marching and playing. For this we had Captain Manch to thank. He was always with us, showing us how to put more snap into our formations, and in the bandroom his constructive criticism was always appreciated. It was in here that we found out what a masterful musician he is. It did not take us long to appreciate his ability to play any instrument, and play it well. With his informal talks to us at unexpected moments, he served as an inspiration to every cadet that was present!—we salute you, Captain Manch, for the wonderful Cand you have made this year!

The so called "Horn Tooters" were conspicuous in the way of outside activities. Our Captain holds the honor of being a very respected member of the Honor Committee and Secretary of the Student Body. We then have Shomo, bearing his burdens as President of the Junior Literary Society. This in itself is an unexcelled representation.—Offutt took advantage of his ability to write up reports and lent his assistance to the baseball team as manager. But Gallagher is the star of our Band. His prowess in football, basketball, and baseball has been the talk of the Corps this year. With great pride we point to Gallagher as a Bandman.—Ah! we have a marksman in our midst! None other than Mr. William Round. His cool eye and steady hand earned him the place of number one man on the rifle team. We can account for his uncanny aim because of his Marine heritage. His score for the year was right up with the experts; so you can see our band consists of something besides talented musicians.

Here you have in black and white the reason why the band played such a conspicuous part in the activities of the school this year.—With great pride, and all the well known cheers, we say: "GIVE IT TO THE BAND"!!

QUARTERMASTER

R. S. ALLEN
First Lieutenant

R. C. BYERS
Second Lieutenant

THE Quartermaster Company at Augusta is composed of a group of boys who are not so fortunate as the rest of the cadets in the battalion. These cadets work their way through school by waiting on the tables in the Mess Hall. They willingly wait on these tables three times daily under the able leadership of the Steward, Lieutenant Fontaine, and his assistant, Stuart Allen. At all formations the C. W.'s, as they are generally called, join the regular companies and their number greatly helps in increasing the size of the battalion. The Colors also are constituted of two cadet waiters.

The C. W.'s are well represented in the school's activities by their Captain, "Stu" Allen. He is Vice-President of the Student Body, a member of the Honor Committee, on the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, and President of the Ciceronian Literary Society. Many of the other boys in the C. W. Company are on the Honor Roll at Augusta.

On the athletic side of life at Augusta, the C. W.'s, though handicapped by their lack of numbers, made it up by their unlimited enthusiasm and zest. They occupy in sports an available position in the eyes of the rest of the boys of the Corps. The captains of four out of seven sports were all C. W.'s. The outstanding "pigskin toters" of the "Shack" are Allen, Keegin, Fusco, Sedwick, Heilman, and Jackson. They accounted for a great deal of the strength of this year's gridiron team.

And now for the life in the nine-room barracks. We will surely miss our competent leader, "Stu" who has lived here for four years, and we wish him the best of luck in college. The same goes for "Bob" Byers and his yearnings for a certain Miss in Charleston, W. Va. We feel sure that "Junior" Jordan, Lee, and "Itchem", lazy man Van Lear, will be back and we sincerely hope that the latter will catch up with the proverbial snail before the new term.

By careful canvass we have found that "Itchem" Van Lear, without a doubt, is the laziest cadet in the school.

In No. 9, Byers and Lee became the proud parents of three kittens, two black ones and one grey one. "Bob" and "Lee" have become so attached to them that they are going to take them home with them as a remembrance of the year 1934-'35.

MRS. K. V. ALLEN

The C. W.'s are always willing to serve the school in any manner. When Major Roller called for volunteers to publish the Bayonet, the C. W.'s responded one hundred per cent. Byers was appointed Editor-in-Chief, assisted by Allen, Jordan, Culton, and Lee.

We would also like to say that Rees ran a close race for the biggest-hot-air-artist. Rees and Burroughs are the instigators of those eternal sessions that last until the wee hours of the morning, telling those wild stories about their experiences with the women. It is also rumored around barracks that Perry very politely took Byers's girl friend from him.

We would like to say that Lt. Fontaine has been an inspiration to all of us. We have all enjoyed working under him, as he is well liked by all of the boys.

There has been a lot of talk around school lately about Major buying a new school bus. If this would have happened there would have been a heartbroken boy among our midst, because "Bob" Byers could not have parted with his "Yellow Hound".

We also have in our barracks the two incomparable "snipe hunters", Byers and Lee. We find it very easy to keep all cigarette "butts" off the floors and stoops with these two gentlemen around. It is also understood that Byers has a certain young lady at Mary Baldwin College who makes it a point to send him a box of "ducks" occasionally.

One of the annual occurrences in the mess hall is the bit of detective work done by Lt. Fontaine by rounding up the undercover man who insists upon taking pie every pie day. Lt. Fontaine states, "that there will come a day."

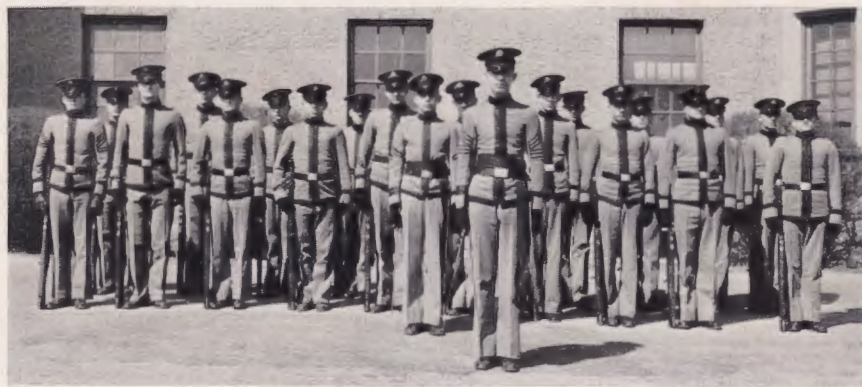

"Last but not least" we must mention "Ches" Allen. "Ches" is not the laziest cadet, although he is the slowest. We feel that if the powerful substance known as T. N. T. should be ignited under our dear friend, he would still move at this two-mile an-hour pace.

In closing we want to wish the C. W. Company all the luck in the world, and we are sure that they will all be a great success in any phase of life which they may choose to enter. We intended to close with the above, but now we deem it necessary to say that in the future the "slingers of the slum and gravy" will have to step high to compete with this year's class.

Non-Commissioned Officers

THE Non-Commissioned Officers of this year's Battalion were officers of good, dependable, and loyal quality. They were chosen with a great deal of hard selection and with much consideration. When the Final Makeovers came out at the beginning of the school year there were many offices given that were well deserved. Within two days after these makeovers almost all these officers were wearing their chevrons. They looked at them proudly and displayed them with an air of superiority. These chevrons were not won in a day or a week, but by a year of hard drilling and work in the classroom.

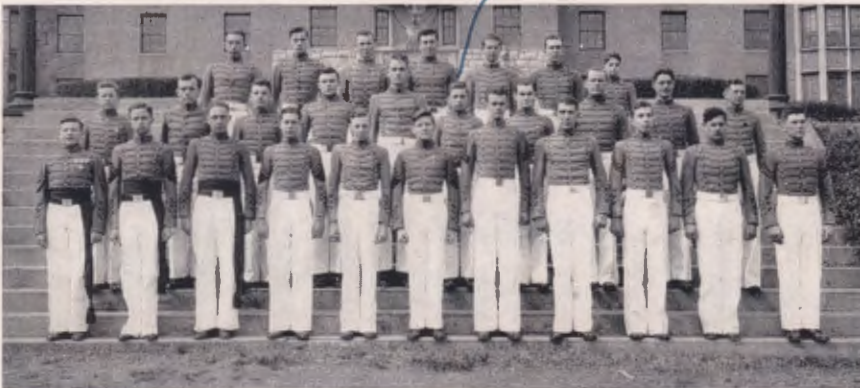

Without these officers the companies would have been nothing like the former companies of A. M. A. and the school would never have gotten the Honor School this year. Their ability to handle different organizations helped to prove their worthiness of their rank. These men must lay aside all their friendliness when the time comes to get some hard, earnest work done and in doing so they distinguish themselves as true officers.

The Corps this year has been blessed with as fine and human a group of officers as has ever existed. The life of a corporal or sergeant is not all roses and light wines, as anyone who has even casually watched drill a few weeks preceding Government Inspection, will attest. Controlling seven men, each with his own ideas as to the strategy to be employed, is no job for an excitable person, but this is only one of the many duties of our heroes; there are seven rifles or dykes to be approved and readjusted prior to inspections, and reports to be given many times each day for which the corporal usually depends upon some helpless "new cadet" who is summarily chastised by the "higher-ups". Every one of these men has done his share and more to keep Augusta high on the list of Honor Schools, and we thank them for their job.

Likewise, the higher ranking, non-commissioned officers do their part in helping the military department grow better. The first sergeants are the hard-boiled men in the companies and they keep perfect discipline in their respective organizations. These officers are considered the best non-coms in the Corps of Cadets and they have proven many times their worthiness to their offices. We hope in the future that all the non-commissioned officers that will be made will live up to the qualifications of their offices.

ATHLETICS

AS DIRECTOR of Athletics at A. M. A., Major Roller is a valuable asset. He has direct charge of all athletic and sporting events. The schedules of all of the teams must receive his sanction and in many cases he has, by his initiative and former experience, secured contests for us that add prestige to our athletics.

MAJOR C. S. ROLLER, JR.
Athletic Director

Notwithstanding the fact that he has many other more important matters to attend to, he is always ready to bolster up the spirit of the teams and of the Corps with a timely pep meeting or a little extra blackboard practice, and in every instance we have found his enthusiasm contagious. Many afternoons find him standing on the sidelines giving competent advice and cheering the teams on to a little more drive and pep. In former years we could always count on his being behind the plate at least a few times.

To our Assistant Athletic Director, Captain Deane, should go much credit for the success of the Athletic Department. A former star athlete in college, he has coached many of Augusta's varsity teams to victorious seasons and now carries on his splendid record with the swimming team. The issuing of the equipment to the various teams, the direction of many of our junior athletics, the supervision of many schedules, these are but a few of the hundred and one duties which he must attend to. He, too, is always ready to lend a hand at pep meetings and add his bit to "esprit de corps". He is noted for his advocacy of clean, hard played sports and has the respect of the whole corps. We are fortunate in having such a man as Captain Deane among our personnel. His beneficial influence for the betterment of our teams is always welcome.

CAPTAIN H. D. DEANE

FOOTBALL

IMMEDIATELY upon his arrival at school, each boy, both old and new, became engrossed in one topic, Football. The talk was not limited to the cadets, but the faculty also were discussing the coming season and its possibilities. With only two lettermen back the chances for a champion team seemed vague. However, it was not long before Coaches Williams and Dunn began to mold a team which soon turned out to be the best in a number of years. Every afternoon we watched the team improve.

Then came our first game, with Shenandoah Junior College.

Both teams were well matched and the contest was close. Each side resorted to punts and we got the best of most of the exchanges. Shenandoah employed frequent reverses but with little success. Rather than resort to plays that might lead to a costly fumble, we plowed through the line and around the ends. In the last quarter we threatened their goal, but the game ended before we could carry the ball over. The final score was 0 to 0; but everyone was satisfied with our first showing on the field.

After a week's rest, we met Hargrave Military Academy on our home field. The field was muddy and consequently passing and kicking inaccurate. A. M. A. continually plowed through Hargrave's line for good gains. Hargrave, in turn, tried the same tactics with little success. Keegin showed in this game that he was just as able at quarterback as he had been in carrying the pigskin. When the final whistle blew the score stood 19 to 0 in favor of Augusta. Our first victory a decisive one, we were well satisfied.

The next Saturday saw our team traveling to Alexandria, Va., to meet the strong Episcopal High School team. The team was slow in getting started and found itself deep in its own territory. E. H. S., in a series of powerful line plays, carried the ball to our two-yard line. There Bryant, of Episcopal, carried the ball over for the first score of the game. An attempted dropkick by Hoxton of E. H. S. for the extra point failed. This touchdown came after a brilliant end run by Wilson of Episcopal.

The second quarter brought another Episcopal score. The Keydets fumbled and E. H. S. recovered on our own 27-yard line. Wilson took the ball on the run from his center and breezed by our left end for another tally. This time Episcopal succeeded in converting and the half ended 13 to 0 in favor of our opponents.

The second half found a new spirited team. Seeking revenge, Joe Keegin made his own opening in Episcopal's line to put over our first score. Nixon booted the ball over the bar for the extra point. Shortly after "Pedie" Jackson romped over the goal-line after receiving a twenty-yard pass from Keegin. Following this tally, Nixon failed to convert. Keegin and Sedwick were the outstanding players on our team. Keegin passed and ran the ball superbly and in several instances kicked the pigskin out of dangerous positions.

On the following Saturday Woodberry Forest went down in defeat at the hands of the mighty Blue team. On the kick-off Woodberry received and carried the ball to their own thirty-yard line. After a series of plays they carried the ball to our own forty-five yard line where they punted over our goal line. Unable to gain a first down, Keegin punted. An exchange of punts added yardage to the Cadets and after a few passes and line plays we found ourselves on their 24-yard line. An unsuccessful attempt at a pass cost us ten yards and Woodberry took the ball and marched down the field to our goal line, where they fumbled and we punted out of danger. Another fumble on their part gave us the ball, which we carried to their four-yard line when the half ended.

In the third quarter Augusta started a fierce aerial attack which netted us the first score of the game and also the extra point. Woodberry received and carried the ball to their own thirty-yard line. An intercepted pass gave us the ball and we tried a pass which they intercepted.

In the last quarter a series of plays and an exchange of punts gave us the ball on our 38-yard line. Following a penalty, the ball went to Woodberry, who tried a pass which was intercepted and carried 65 yards for another score.

On October 27th our eleven journeyed to Fork Union, Va., to play F. U. M. A. For the most part the team was over-confident and in the first period we found ourselves in danger of being scored upon. In a few plays Fork Union carried the ball over and made the extra point. Following this period we showed more drive but not enough to retaliate with a score. A strong, dusty wind greatly handicapped our pass attack, and at times it was even difficult to see the ball.

The following week Greenbrier came to the Clay Bowl and battled us in a close game which ended in a 6-6 tie. Captain Elwood, of Greenbrier, played a brilliant game, getting his team out of many close places with his elusive line plunges and end runs. Our score came in the first quarter.

Before a large crowd of Manlius alumni gathered there for their Fall Reunion the Manlius School and the Blue and White battled to a scoreless tie on Kallet Field. The game will go down in history as one of the most bitterly fought contests ever seen at Manlius. Both elevens struggled valiantly for a score, but both failed, although each had one opportunity. Our chance came in the first half when brilliant work by Keegin and Carlin advanced the ball to the adversary's twenty-yard line. This was as near as either team came to a touchdown. In the second half Manlius worked a running attack that enabled them to reach our twenty-yard line, where they were effectively stopped by our line.

Our next encounter was with our ancient rivals, S. M. A. The game was played in the mud and although outclassed and outplayed in the first half the Blue and White put up a beautiful comeback in the twilight hour of the final period to force through a score.

Capitalizing on three blocked punts and a beautiful broken field sprint by Widebrook in the first three quarters, Staunton was able to roll up sufficient margin to give them a twenty-one to seven victory over our varsity. Joe Keegin, our quarterback, was undisputedly the hero of the game. Time after time the ball was flashed back to him and whether given support by our outweighed line or not he plowed through the mud for consistent gains.

Staunton's first score came in the initial quarter when one of our adversaries broke through the line to block a punt behind our own goal line.

The extra point was not made. Keegin broke away in the first quarter for a long run that looked like a touchdown, but he was finally brought down on S. M. A.'s fifteen-yard line. Again in the first quarter Gore, of Staunton, blocked one of Keegin's punts. With the ball on our own twenty-yard line Watson skirted around our end for their second tally. His attempt to dropkick the point was blocked. Staunton completed her scoring for the day in the third quarter. The half had hardly begun before another of Keegin's punts was blocked and knocked out of bounds behind our own goal line where Buns, of S. M. A., fell on it for a safety.

In the final period the Blue and White's dogged attempts to score were realized. A Staunton back had punted and the ball was brought down to S. M. A.'s forty-yard line. A pass from Keegin to Mitchell netted five yards. Keegin plunged through to the thirty-yard line for a first down. Allen tore away for fifteen yards and followed with a short gain of three yards. Keegin took the ball to their eight-yard line and there we lost the ball on downs. Staunton punted and the ball went to mid-field. None the less thwarted by our ill luck a few moments before, our backs pegged away at the line until we had advanced to their twenty-five yard line. From there we continued our drive to the fourteen-yard line. On the next play Carlan crashed through the line for five yards. A lucky penalty gave us the ball on their five-yard marker and in two plays Keegin plunged through the center of the line for our score. He then carried the ball over for the extra point.

On Thanksgiving we met our old rivals, Fishburne, which resulted in a victory for us by the score of 7-6.

We received the kick-off and carried the ball deep into midfield. There we took up a strong offense and pushed deep to their forty-yard line, where we punted and the ball went out on Fishburne's ten-yard line. Fishburne opened up with a spectacular 85-yard run by St. Clair. A short pass gave them their tally. Augusta elected to receive and took the ball to our own forty-yard line. In a series of powerful plays our Keydets pushed the ball to Fishburne's ten-yard line. Fishburne tried to punt out of danger but fumbled giving us the ball. Keegin smashed through tackle for our score and then the extra point. Fishburne again chose to kick and after an exchange of punts we drove deep into Fishburne's territory to their one-yard line. The breaks were against us though for the half ended before we had time to push it over.

In the second half F. M. S. received and carried the pigskin to our 35-yard line, but Keegin easily punted out of danger. In the remainder of the quarter A. M. A. was the aggressor most of the time. During the last period, in a futile effort to get another score through several passes which, although unsuccessful, caused us no little concern. F. M. S. attempted a field goal which was unsuccessful and the game ended with the ball in mid-field.

It can be said that we had a very commendable season, losing only two out of the nine games played. We scored sixty-five points to our opponents' fifty. The coaches, Captain Allen and all the members of the squad should receive credit for their meritable work. Twenty men received the well earned Major Monogram. They were: Nixon, Maloney, Pennybacker, Wheeler, H. S., Wheeler, H. W., Fusco, Heilman, Zizak, Perry, Mitchell, Keegin, Sedwick, Allen, Dempsey, Jackson, Carlan, Rees, Foreman, Wharton, and Weber. We congratulate the team for a great season.

CAPTAIN WILLIAMS called for the candidates for basketball the day after the Corps returned from the Christmas vacation. Fourteen men answered the call: among them were Co-Captains Stuart Allen and Basil Tully, both lettermen from last year's team.

On January 24th the Augusta five journeyed to the Y. M. C. A. in Staunton and played its first game of the season with the Hargrave Military School. We defeated H. M. S. by the score of 29 to 27, but we led throughout the entire game. Jackson led the quintet and scored sixteen points. Grills and Gallagher assisted Jackson in the scoring, while Heilman played a perfect defensive game.

The next game was played at Dayton, Va., with the Shenandoah College. The Blue and the White team was defeated by the score of 50 to 28. This contest was much closer than the score indicated, as Augusta at times outplayed and outclassed the college five. On the following day, the team journeyed to Charlottesville, where it met the Episcopal High School in the University of Virginia gym. Augusta led in the first three quarters by a wide margin, but in the last quarter Episcopal came from behind to defeat the Blue and White 30 to 28. Jackson and Allen carried the brunt of the offensive, while Grills and Keegan led the defense.

On February 4th Augusta played and defeated its ancient rival, the Staunton Military Academy, the final score was 31 to 26. Jackson and Heilman led Augusta's scoring, collecting 23 points, while the all around playing of Gallagher and Grills rounded out a perfect combination.

Augusta met and defeated the Davidson frosh 34 to 22. Jackson and Heilman, and Grills did all of the scoring with 13, 9, and 8 points, respectively. The following day we were defeated by the Washington and Lee Freshmen 35 to 29. Spessard, 6 ft. 7 in. center, was the main gun of W. & L.'s attack, while Jackson and Board led A. M. A.

The Augustans, after outplaying the Greenbrier Military School, were defeated 36 to 26, Jackson led all scorers with 13 points while Mitchell, Allen, and Wharton collected the remainder of the tallies for A. M. A. The following night, again on their home floor, the Blue and the White got back in their scoring column by defeating the Norfolk Division of William and Mary 47 to 18. The cadets led throughout the game and never did the extension threaten the lead.

In a hard fought battle, we defeated F. M. S. 40 to 29 on their home floor. Fishburne led at the halfway mark, but Augusta came back in the last half by scoring 21 points to F. M. S.'s 8. Each man played high grade ball and contributed to the success of his team.

In a return game with W. and L. on our own floor we were trounced 33 to 19. Jackson, Grills, and Heilman did all the scoring for Augusta, while Spessard again led the freshmen to victory. In the next game Augusta opened a fast attack to defeat the Fork Union Military Academy quintet by the score of 32 to 29. Jackson and Heilman again topped the scoring while Gallagher and Grills played the best floor games.

In a rough and hard fought game, we defeated the Virginia Presbyterian School 35 to 25. V. P. S. led at the halfway mark, but the Augusta team came from behind to win. A. M. A. led by Jackson and Grills outplayed and outfought the visiting team throughout the entire game.

The Blue and White, after traveling to Orange, easily defeated Woodberry 41 to 11. The entire team was used in this game, but Woodberry was unable to score against the junior varsity. After one day of rest we again defeated Fishburne, this time by the score of 41 to 32. F. M. S. was never able to penetrate our superb defense. Jackson, Gallagher, and Heilman, led the Augusta team in the scoring column.

In Staunton in a hard fought contest S. M. A. turned the tables by defeating Augusta 37 to 29. A. M. A. was outplayed in the first three quarters, but in the last period scored 13 points and had there been a few more minutes the Blue and White would probably have triumphed. Jackson alone scored 17 points, while the all-round playing of Keegin and Allen featured.

Augusta, after having lost only six out of seventeen games, was invited to participate in the South Atlantic Prep School basketball tournament. We were defeated in the first game of the meet by Chevy Chase High School by one point in a close and hard fought contest.

These men, because of their unceasing efforts to triumph and to play fairly deserve recognition as excellent basketball players and clean sportsmen. They showed whether winning or losing the spirit and fight of all Augusta teams.

Jackson, Grills, Gallagher, Heilman, Board, Allen, Tully, Mitchell, Keegin, Foreman, and Wharton were awarded monograms at the close of the season.

SWIMMING

SWIMMING this year was stimulated by an inter-company swimming tournament for the first time. By means of this competition, Captain Deane was able to discover many promising prospects. Much interest was shown by the cadets; consequently, after Christmas furlough, when Capt. Deane called for candidates, a gratifying number of boys reported. Among them were four letter men, including Captain Norvy Byrd.

The initial test for our natators was the University of Virginia Frosh at the University pool. The team showed surprising spirit and condition which prophesied well for the future meets. Beeson, Higbee, Stong, and Adams starred for the team by taking four first places. Enough seconds and thirds were netted to amass the total of 39 points to Virginia's 27.

After winning their first meet, the team settled for one of their most important meets of the year with S. M. A. This meet started in much better style with Beeson and Adam contributing the victories. Although we lost the meet with a score of 31 to S. M. A.'s 35, it brought out the flaws that had to be corrected for later meets.

Our next meet was with the crack W. and L. Frosh. Beeson collected two more first places with Weber and Adam collecting one apiece. This was not enough, however, and A. M. A. finished the meet at the small end of the score with 25 points to their 41.

The next meet on the schedule was with a newcomer, Randolph-Macon Academy. The relay team, Robinson and Adam, collected victories while McClung took two. A. M. A. won easily with a score of 46 to 20.

In the return meet with the W. and L. Frosh, they again proved to be too strong for the team. In this meet, the only man to gain a victory was McClung in the dives. The final score was 38 to 28.

The next week the team took a long trip to another newcomer on the schedule. This meet was with the Friends' school in Baltimore. This was the first long trip to be taken by the A. M. A. swimming team for several years. The team again broke into the winning column by scoring an easy victory. Beeson, Adam, Byrd, and McClung won first places. In the medley relay, a new event, the team showed its adaptability by taking first. The final score was 53 to 22. The winning of this meet was especially significant since it spread the fame of A. M. A. swimming team in Baltimore.

The next day on our return trip we swam our return meet with Randolph-Macon Academy. The team again showed their superiority by whipping their opponents by the score of 44 to 22. Weber, Robinson, Farnsworth, Somerville, and McClung captured first places. The victory made by McClung made it the fourth straight for him.

During the week following this victory, the team endeavored to straighten out any of its weak points in preparation for the return meet with S. M. A. The boys were determined not to suffer another defeat at their rival's hands; so, when the team went to the meet, it was tuned to a fever pitch. The relay team lost, but still it collected four valuable points. "Billy" Robinson came in a close second with Tighe coming in third in the fifty-yard dash. In the hundred yards, Weber collected a second place and Adam splashed his way to victory in the back-stroke. Cook took a second in the breast stroke and Captain Norvy Byrd plowed his way through the water for a decisive victory in the 220. "Billy" McClung rang up his fifth consecutive victory in the dives. The final score was 36 to S. M. A.'s 30. This meet, although close, gave the team sweet revenge for the defeat suffered in the earlier part of the year.

The team's last two meets were won overwhelmingly by our now experienced team. They were both with Fishburne Military School, another newcomer on our schedule. Beeson, Adam, Weber, McClung, Robinson, Higbee, Farnsworth, Somerville, F., Byrd, N., Cook, Tighe, Stong, and Reid all received major monograms. Augusta is very proud of her championship team.

The season was fittingly brought to a close by the annual banquet at the Floradale Lodge. This year those enjoying the banquet voted it the best of all time. Many young ladies were present and they proved to be almost as good at giving impromptu speeches as at dancing. Mrs. Major Roller and Mrs. Deane gave very interesting talks and the evening was brought to a climax with the election of Norvy Byrd to again be Captain and Fenton Somerville to be Assistant Captain.

BOXING

FOLLOWING the resumption of studies after the Christmas holidays, boxing season was ushered in with the arrival of our new coach, Lieutenant La Lance. Herman Wheeler had been elected captain and on the first day five lettermen reported for practice, as well as others of varsity calibre.

Although the season was fairly successful, hard luck followed the team, taking from its ranks two of our best men: Quarles in the 125-lb. class, and last year's prep school champion, and Culton, our 135-pounder.

The season opened with a complete victory over a four-man team from the Staunton A. C. which, in truth, was but a good workout.

Our second opponent was Greenbrier, who was a worthy team, although we took the match 7-1. Payne started off with a decision over his opponent. His victory was followed by a hard battle, which we lost, between Jones, who was fighting for Quarles, and Wilson, of Greenbrier. Quarles, who had been pushed to the 135-lb. class, won a decision over his opponent, and Sedwick, Herman Wheeler, Harry Wheeler, Nixon and Malony followed with decisive victories over their respective opponents.

The team left for the Naval Academy on the 9th of February, to exchange punches with the Navy Plebes. Although losing by the score of 6-2, our mittmen put up stiff fights and lost two fights on account of lack of understanding of the referee's warnings. Payne started off beautifully by whipping his man by a T. K. O. Quarles dropped a close contest to the Navy 125-pounder. Rees followed by a decision over his opponent.

The remainder of our pugilists lost in close fights.

February 16th found our mittmen journeying to Charlottesville to fight the University of Virginia Freshmen. "Frannie" Payne fought a close decision to his freshman opponent, and Dinwiddie, of Virginia, slugged his way to victory over our Billy Jones. In the 135-lb. class Rees hardly defeated his adversary. Herman Wheeler dropped a close fight to Harlow, their best man. Nixon defeated his opponent by a T. K. O. in the second round and Harry Wheeler lost on a decision. In the 175-lb. class Pennybacker fought a beautiful fight until he unluckily ran into a haymaker and took the count. Malony, in three rounds of hard fighting drew with his opponent, making the score 5½ to 2½.

The following week we encountered the V. M. I. Rats. Every man, win, lose, or draw, fought a beautiful fight. Payne won in short order, by a T. K. O. in the first round. Billy Jones broke into the win column with a decision over his man. In the same manner Captain Herman Wheeler defeated his man in the first round by a T. K. O. Sedwick drew with his opponent, a man of a very erratic style. Stuart Allen, fighting in the 175-lb. class defeated Roberson, a former A. M. A. cadet, by decision. Pennybacker's usual hard luck robbed him of a decision, although the fight was very close.

Following a week of extensive training and preparation we were ready to take on our old rivals, S. M. A. Contrary to all predictions of an adverse nature, Staunton eked out a  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to  $3\frac{1}{2}$  victory. In the 155-lb. class "Frannie" Payne, sorely handicapped by lack of reach, dropped a close encounter to Day of S. M. A. Billy Jones crashed through with a victory and Sam Rees drew in a close combat with Captain McGrail. Harry Wheeler found Buns, of S. M. A., a little too much for him and lost his fight by a T. K. O. Nixon fought a beautiful fight and easily outwitted his opponent. The score became tied  $3\frac{1}{2}$  to  $3\frac{1}{2}$  following a forfeit to them. Pennybacker, this time in the unlimited class, was defeated in a close match by Rogerson giving them the match  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to  $3\frac{1}{2}$ .

In the South Atlantic Tournament we entered a full team and emerged from the conflict, runners-up. Five men reached the finals. They were: Payne in the 115-lb. class, Rees in the 135-lb. class, Capt. Wheeler in the 145-lb class, Nixon in the 165-pound class, and Pennybacker in the unlimited class. Rees and Nixon came through in a blaze of glory to become the new champions in their respective classes.

We can be justly proud of the success of our mitt-men. It is due in great measure to the untiring interest and efforts of Lieutenant La Lance. His capable coaching and great interest was a valuable factor to those who fought under him.

Nine men received the "A". They were: Payne, F., Quarles, Jones, Rees, Capt. Wheeler, Harry Wheeler, Nixon, Sedwick and Pennybacker.

WRESTLING

*I wish you the best in everything you do

a B.A. Tom Felts*

IN HIS first year as wrestling coach at Augusta Capt. Dunn was confronted with one of the hardest tasks of any of our coaches; that of converting a green team, most of whom had never wrestled, into a team which could tackle the hard schedule laid out for it. While not exactly successful, our grapplers showed such an amount of spirit and "never say die", that each team that met us never won without being tried to its very best.

Three lettermen reported to the first practice and in a few days Capt. Dunn began rounding his team into shape. Our first meet was with the V. M. I. rats. The odds of the meet were against us and we came out on the small end of a 35 to 5 score, Coiner, A., in the 115-lb. class being our only winner.

On January 24th, we met the Washington and Lee freshmen. Coiner was again our only winner, winning over his opponent by a large time advantage. Souffront and Somerville lost by time advantages while Smith, Carlan, Zizak, Pennybacker, and Frank Felts lost by falls. Ned Somerville carried his match to two extra periods, but lost by a seventy-second time advantage.

The following week our grapplers journeyed to Annapolis to meet the Navy Matmen. Again Lady Luck opposed us and we dropped this meet by the score of 26 to 6. Coiner again won time over his man to take his match. Souffront broke into the win column by whipping his opponent with a four-minute time advantage. In the 135-lb. class Tommy Roller was defeated by a time advantage, while Miller, Somerville, Zizak, Connor, and Frank Felts lost by falls.

Following the Middie meet we met again with the W. and L. Frosh in the memorial gymnasium. We were unfortunate in having all of our electric power cut off just before the meet because of a bad snowstorm and hence were driven to use kerosene lamps. Coiner stayed undefeated in the 115-lb. class by throwing his opponent. Souffront, after handily staying atop of his man for a good part of the match, was taken by surprise and thrown. Our remaining grapplers lost by falls.

Following this meet we met the combined teams of Handley High School and the Winchester Athletic Club, both of Winchester, Va. In this match the 105-lb. class was added to the list.

In the first match Acosta, badly handicapped by lack of experience, was thrown by Fettes of Winchester in two minutes. In the 115-lb. class Coiner as usual came through with a victory for the Blue and White by gaining time advantage over his opponent. Souffront won a time advantage over Harshberger of Winchester. His victory was followed by another, that of Roller, who won with a 5½-minute time advantage. Capt. Redwood of Winchester and "Red" Miller had a hard and thrilling match which finally ended in a victory for the former by a fall. In the 150-lb. class Fusco lost by a two-minute time advantage. Connor won by forfeit, and Zizak followed with a victory over Street of Winchester after the match had gone an extra period.

The Richmond Athletic Club was our next opponent. They took this meet by the score of 18 to 14. Coiner won by forfeit, Roller, Somerville and Zizak won a time advantage.

In our final meet we were defeated by Woodberry Forest by the score of twenty-one to eleven. Coiner continued his undefeated record by defeating Wood in a fall. Souffront lost by a fall after four minutes and thirty seconds of hard wrestling. "Red" Miller lost by a 1½-minute time advantage. Ned Somerville brilliantly finished his season by defeating his Capt. Hill of Woodberry with a three-minute time advantage. Tom Felts lost by time advantage, and Zizak defeated his opponent by the same route. In the 174-lb. class Stong lost by a fall in four minutes.

The unlimited class was won by Hooker over Frank Felts by a time advantage.

Despite the fact that our grapplers had an unsuccessful season all of these men deserve praise. They put forth their best effort and that is all that an A. M. A. athlete is excepted to do.

Coiner, A., Souffront, Roller, Huffman, Carlan, Pennybacker, Connor, Felts, T., Felts, F., Zizak, Somerville won the "A" for their hard and earnest work throughout the season.

BASEBALL

THE gymnasium echoed and resounded with the thud of balls and gloves. It was surely the first sign of spring. Cold weather had not yet officially departed, but already Lt. Roller had called for candidates for baseball. Among these were only two men from last year's nine, Culton and Tully. Culton was last year's regular catcher and Tully substituted at third.

On the first day of April the season was opened with a game with Adelphi Academy from Brooklyn. Corken making his debut allowed only seven hits and two runs in the seven-inning game. Gallagher and Foreman, also newcomers, led the hitting with two out of three each. Keegin, Stong, and Foreman were responsible for the scoring by crossing the plate in the fourth inning. Augusta 3, Adelphi 2.

On a trip to the South, A. M. A. was defeated by the University of North Carolina Freshmen. Peake was knocked out of the box in the sixth inning and was succeeded by Corken. Augusta was allowed only two hits, these gotten by Gallagher and Tully. A. M. A. could do nothing with the delivery of the Carolina pitcher. On this same trip we met and defeated the Freshmen of Duke University. Corken pitched for the second straight day and defeated the Frosh 6 to 5. Wharton, playing errorless ball, collected three hits out of four attempts, shone in the field for Augusta. Keegin also assisted at bat by poling out two long hits out of five times at bat. Ten errors on the part of Duke also added to Augusta's success.

Gathering thirteen hits and nine runs behind the pitching of Davis, Wheeler and Corken, Augusta defeated Mt. St. Joseph nine to six. Foreman led the Blue and White with a double and two singles, while Keegin collected a triple and a single in three times to the plate. Three errors at the crucial moment of the battle were very costly to the visiting team.

The following week the Augusta team journeyed to Charlottesville to meet the Virginia Freshmen. After a hard fought eight innings the Virginia team put across the plate the one run necessary to defeat the Augusta nine. Peake had allowed only eight hits and six runs up to the eighth inning and the score was tied up six all. Corken relieved Peake in the ninth and the Frosh collected two hits and one run. Tully led the Augusta hitters with two hits out of four times at bat.

Two days later the Blue and White was victorious by defeating the Roosevelt High School of Washington, D. C. The Augusta team out-hit the High School 11 to 7 and were only able to push 11 runs across the plate to Roosevelt's 10. Davis went the entire route for A. M. A. Foreman led the batting, but Peake rendered the deciding factor of the game by hitting a home run in the seventh.

Fork Union played Augusta to a tie in a game called at the end of the ninth on account of darkness. Augusta started the scoring by having five runs to cross the plate in the last half of the first, and scored one more run in the second. Fork Union scored in the second and third and sixth innings to tie up the score. Fork Union was leading by a run in the ninth, but we scored one run in the last half to tie up the ball game. Wharton, Keegin, and Foreman led the heavy artillery.

In a slugfest, Augusta defeated the State Teachers College in Massachusetts by the score of 20 to 10. Keegin led the sluggers by knocking out two singles and a double out of five attempts.

The third defeat of the season was administered by the varsity of Davis Elkins College on the new athletic field. Corken, after allowing only three hits up to the seventh, was caught for four hits and four runs in that fateful inning. Augusta was allowed only nine hits and four runs. The final score was 5 to 4.

Behind the pitching of Davis, Augusta outthit and outplayed the Washington and Lee Freshmen to win by the score of 5 to 4. Davis allowed only six hits, while Wharton and Culton swung the biggest bats for the Blue and White. Culton drove in two runs in the fourth inning by hitting a long fly to right field.

Augusta with eight games left to play has had a team that has proven itself to be virtually worth its weight in gold. No cleaner sportsmanship or no better ball has ever been seen anywhere than that which has been shown this team. Much credit should be given to Lt. Roller, the coach, and Culton, the captain, for their work well spent during the entire season.

TRACK

THIS being the first in a number of years that Augusta has had a track team, it was not expected that our harriers would make a very formidable showing. However, at the end of the season we found that although we were unable to take first place in any of our meets we readily defeated other teams for second or third place. The team this year was coached by Mr. MacPherson and Capt Williams. At the first call for men there were few who came out but in a few days the number increased and before very long the coaches began to mold a team.

Our first test came with a quadrangular meet at Woodberry, where teams from Fork Union, Randolph-Macon Academy, Woodberry and A. M. A. vied for honors. In this meet we took third place with thirty-nine points. Allen took first in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220-yard dash. Jackson tied for first place in the pole vault and took second in the high jump. Pennybacker took second in the 440-yard dash, while Moulton, Pierce, and Tully took third places in the mile, 880, and broad jump respectively.

Our next meet was with Fishburne, which they won by the close score of 61 to 57. Allen again won the 100-yard dash and also the 220-yard dash. Jackson tied with Grills for first place in the pole vault and won the high jump. Moulton took second place in the mile.

The following week we met the University of Virginia Freshmen, and they emerged the victors by the score of 59 to 30. In the mile, Moulton took second, while Pierce took third in the 880-yard dash. Allen took first in the 220-yard dash and second in the 100-yard dash. Jackson and Grills tied for first in the pole vault and Tully and the former tied for second in the high jump.

In the broad jump Keegin and Tully captured second and third places, while Pierce and Grills also took second and third in the high hurdles. Pierce also ran third place in the low hurdles.

We finished off the season with the State Prep School Meet at Charlottesville. In this meet we amassed seventeen points to give us fourth place. Stuart Allen came in second in the 100-yard dash and also the 220-yard dash. "Pedie" Jackson finished up a brilliant season by taking first place in the high jump and the pole vault and fourth place in the broad jump. In taking first place in the pole vault he broke the state prep school record.

This team put forth every effort and should be congratulated. Those who deserve special mention are Jackson, Grills, Allen, Pierce, and Moulton.

CAVALRY

FROM a small beginning of ten horses the Cavalry unit at Augusta started in 1932 and has steadily grown in equipment and interest until at present there are thirty horses and fifty cadets. The drill is held at the regular drill period and the boys alternate in taking part as there are more boys than horses. Regular cavalry drill is given and the boys are instructed in all the things that go to make up a good cavalrman; care of animals, equipment, ability to judge horses, and all phases of equitation.

Lieutenant Roller has charge of the unit and is responsible for much of the interest in the drills and maneuvers. He is present at all the drill periods and rides with the boys. They know that when they can ride as well as he does they will be more than qualified to join any company of horsemen. His personal interest in the cavalry and his presence are deeply appreciated by all the cadets and they consider themselves lucky to have him in charge of the cavalry.

Not all of the activities of the cavalry are confined to the drill field and the ride maneuvers. We have had at school this year several drag hunts and have been to Staunton to ride with the members of The Glenmore Hunt Club. Major Roller, M. F. H. of The Glenmore Club, always arranged a good hunt for the cadets, and it was a real diversion for the boys who took part. The Hunter trials of the Glenmore Club were witnessed by many of the members of the Augusta Cavalry. It was with real pleasure that they saw many of their horses win ribbons when showing against the best horses of this section of the country.

Our horses are well qualified to win at any meet. Of the thirty in our stables, eighteen are thoroughbreds and the others are all well bred for hunting and riding. Many of our thoroughbreds are from the stables of Willis Sharpe Kilmer, the owner of Sun Beau, Sun Briar, and the breeder of Reigh Count.

At Garrison Review it is truly a great sight to see our Cavalry attached to the Infantry Unit executing the drill in a manner that speaks of perfect training and displays excellent horsemanship in boys of their age. During the progress of athletic events many of the cadets act as mounted guards and win the admiration of the visitors by their courtesy and manliness. Informally, many of the boys enjoy rides over the beautiful countryside each holiday. At finals it is the custom to give our own horse show for the visitors and to determine the best horsemen and horses of the year.

Outstanding among the members of this year's Cavalry are Miller, W., Jones, Felts, T., Talbott, Keane, and Zerbey. These boys have shown all the year that they possess the qualities that go to make up exceptional horseman and, naturally, are considered outstanding cadets in all the attributes that go to make up a well developed man.

Rifle Team

THIS year's rifle team had an exceptional season, winning five of their seven matches.

While they were a little slow in getting started, the team gradually improved until the end of the season.

Our first match was with the New Mexico Military Institute. This was one of the two matches which we lost, as the result was 3485 to 3328 in their favor. Our second match was a victory for us. We amassed 1742 points against 1676 for Valley Forge Military Academy. Our second and last defeat was at the hands of Kemper Military School. The score was very close, being 1763 to 1742 in their favor.

From then on our season was unmarred by any defeats. We defeated La Salle Military Academy by the score of 877 to 816. Another victory followed, this time over Roosevelt Military Academy, 3401 to 3110. Louisville High School was the next victim of our riflemen. We scored 3401 points to their 3375. To finish a beautiful season we defeated our old rivals, Fishburne, in a close shoulder to shoulder match. The shooting was extremely close, but at the finish the score was 745 points for August, 729 for Fishburne. In the Third Corps Area Match we amassed a total of 2340 points, which gave us fourth place.

We scored a total of 15,238 points in the entire season against 14,974 for our adversaries. The excellent marksmanship of Cadets Round, Neale, Searcy, and Payne, R., should be noticed and a great deal of credit for our success should go to these men. We must not forget Lieutenant Caldwell, who coached the team. He gave up much of his time and rendered valuable aid.

Augusta wishes to congratulate this team for its fine showing. The men on the team were Payne, R., Prentiss, Carr, Nelson, Carlan, Round, Searcy, Neale, Greene, and Shook. It may be noted here that Cadet Round was third high scorer in the Third Corps Area Match. As yet we have not heard the returns from the Hearst Trophy Match, but we trust our team made an excellent showing.

Tiger Resume

“LITTLE brooks make great rivers”. How well this famous proverb fits the Tigers. These boys, unable to qualify for our varsity, due to lack of experience or size, the former being the greatest handicap, constitute a fighting team. Under the able coaching of Lieutenant Roller the Tigers developed a fast, smooth working football team. They played a hard schedule and quite often they faced overwhelming odds. They did not falter; it served to make them fight harder and they did until the final whistle. We can well be proud of this team; although their season was only fairly successful in number of victories, it was overwhelmingly successful from one viewpoint: that of fighting spirit.

“Old Lady Luck” was a constant opponent of the Tigers. Her attacks weakened them in number and the breaks of the game. Injuries were frequent among their ranks. Franny Payne, regular back, received a sprained ankle at the beginning of the season that put him out of action for the remainder of the year. Corken also was a frequent receiver of injuries, keeping him from our ranks in several important games.

Their first game was with Wilson High School of Waynesboro. This game was close, going hard, and when the final whistle blew the score stood 6 to 0 in their favor. The Tigers threatened several times and outplayed their opponents in three of the four quarters, but were unable to push the ball across. Mt. Jackson was their next opponent and it resulted in a victory for the opponents by a seven to six score.

Their next opponents were the C. C. C. boys. The C. C. C. boys were much older and larger, but in the end the score stood 12 to 6 in our favor. The following week they encountered the V. S. D. B. team and lost by the score of 32 to 20 in a thrilling game which encased many spectacular plays. S. M. A. was their next opponent. This was another hard fought game, but we lost by the close score of 7 to 0. In a return game with V. S. D. B., the Tigers defeated them by the score of 13 to 12. Fishburne lost to the Tigers by an 18 to 0 score in the following week. This game encouraged the Tigers and the following week, in a return game, they beat S. M. A. 4 to 0. Mount Jackson again were our adversaries and again they defeated us by the score of 7 to 0. In order to prove that the former game with Fishburne was not merely luck, the Tigers whipped F. M. S. by the overwhelming score of 26 to 0. In the final game, another with S. M. A., the Tigers won a brilliant victory, defeating Staunton 26 to 0. They scored 128 points to their opponents' 77. Six games were won and five were lost.

Special credit should go to Manry for his brilliant line plunging and to Corken for his defensive work. Although injured several times, he did more than his bit. In the line, Captain Jacob played excellently and was ably supported by Frank Felts.

Peep Resume

"THEN the Peeps first reported for practice it was found that it was nothing more than last year's Minnows, a little larger and more experienced and coached by the same old coach, Capt. Deane. The first test of the season came but a week after the start of practice. Our opponents were the Fishburne Junior Varsity. Our team, sadly outweighed, played hard ball but was unable to withstand their powerful drives and the game ended with the score 13 to 0 in their favor. The following week we met Lee High of Staunton. A great improvement was noticed and we captured the game by the score of 7 to 0. Shomo starred and made our score by catching a blocked kick.

The Peeps journeyed to Fishburne to play the same team as in the former game. This time the game resulted in a 6 to 6 tie. The team showed a great defense. Our tally was made on a line plunge.

On November 6th we met Greenbrier on our home field. This game resulted in a victory for us by the score of 18 to 0. Our pass attack of McClung to Fernald accounted for two of the scores while another of Quarles's line plunges accounted for the third score. Shomo and Clyborne starred on the defense. This game, despite the score, was extremely close and each foot was closely contested on both sides.

We again met Greenbrier in a return game on their home field, and this time we again were victorious and downed the West Virginians by the score of 19 to 6. The team was slow in getting started, and in a short time Greenbrier had scored. This aroused the spirit of the team and in short order we scored. In the second half we scored twice more. The touchdowns were made by Fernald, Shomo, and McClung.

This team, coached like a varsity, played like a varsity. They had a series of plays which showed that size is not all that counts in a football game. The majority of the teams on the schedule outweighed us, but the Peeps made up in fight what they lacked in weight and there was no team played that did not leave the field wearied and worn.

All members of this fighting eleven deserve credit. Those who were most outstanding were Clyborne and Shomo, ends; Quarles, Fernald, and McClung, backs. Before closing we wish to say that we thank each and every man for giving the best and doing their best for A. M. A. Some of these boys will make future Augusta teams, while others will go away and play elsewhere, where they will show the spirit and sportsmanship they received from this team.

Minnow Resume

UNDER the able coaching of Lieutenants Wertheimer and Roller, the Minnows developed a smooth working combination that in the future will undoubtedly prove varsity material. This team is picked from the smaller boys of Augusta, their ages ranging from ten to fourteen years.

This squad, like all of the A. M. A. teams, played a clean brand of ball, never faltering from their purpose and always displaying a fine show of sportsmanship. Without these boys Augusta would undoubtedly lack an important element. They always show an enthusiasm that cannot be beaten anywhere.

In their first game, with the Charlottesville Fives, the Minnows showed a little lack of team work, but made it up with pep and drive. Their opponents won the game 36 to 18. Following this game came a week of extensive practice in preparation for the Fishburne game. This game ended in a 6 to 6 tie, but a great improvement was shown. The next game was with Fishburne, also, and this time the Minnows were defeated 46 to 18. This loss can be attributed, for the most part, to the fact that Fishburne placed a much larger team on the field than our Minnows were able to cope with. Again the following week Fishburne succeeded in defeating the Minnows; this time 38 to 14. The former handicap was still prevalent. In their last game, with Greenbrier Military School, the Minnows were again unsuccessful. Although an entire week had been spent mostly in signal practice, the Greenbrier Midgets ran off a series of trick plays that completely fooled our Minnows.

Each of the players on this team deserves credit; but we are able to name only a few who were especially active in their games. Those who starred in the line were Barnes, Shook, Bolling, and Thornton. In the backfield Carrillo, Wilson, and Capt. Acosta were most prominent.

We take our hats off to their team for their fine display of clean, hard sportsmanship. It is on this group that the foundation of Augusta's athletics is formed. To many of us it seems improbable that such a small team like our Minnows could play such an important part in school life, but to see the enthusiasm which is put forth by these boys in their activities dispels from our minds all doubts of their importance.

Monogram Club

THE "A" men of Augusta. How proudly they display their white letters, and why not? Have they not worked days, weeks and even months to win this honor? Of course, and not only that but they have endured many hardships in order to win their letter. But that is not all. A poor team it would be if just everyone went out for it to make their monograms. These men went out there working for their team, their coaches, fighting against their desires to quit when the going was hard, always trying to better themselves, and to develop their bodies.

In the past many records have been shattered by this band of champions and this year they held up the traditions of old. Included in the club's constitution are all the ideals that a true Augusta cadet strives to live up to while he is a member of the Corps.

Every field of sport is represented in this group of young men and in it each one has excelled. Football, Basketball, Baseball, Wrestling, Boxing, and Swimming are only some of the main sports in which these boys have participated. They have formed one of the longest lived and most highly respected organizations in our school today.

As we have stated, there are many long hours of back-breaking exercises and weeks of training before one can win a monogram. These men well deserve our praise and admiration, but let us not forget those who helped tremendously in all the sports and who went through the same hardships as the others, but who were not quite able to amass the necessary amount of points to win their monogram. We are not justified in saying that they were negligent in their work, that they were not any good, because many times these boys were almost on the point of winning a place on some team when they were beaten only by the slightest margin by some other boy. We feel sure that all those who did not win their letter this year will come to the front in the future and possibly even better the mark set by those who were fortunate enough to win this honor this year.

Every Spring an initiation is given to those who have won their monogram for the first time during the year. This initiation lasts three days, and during this time the new monogram men are required to perform certain duties and abide by the rules that have been set up by the old monogram men. At the end of this time these men are then full-fledged members of the Monogram Club.

Before closing, we wish to extend to these men our sincere thanks for the spirit, aid, and loyalty that they have shown toward our athletic teams, and we know that they will always carry with them the "will to win" spirit and the most essential quality of a person who enters the field of sports. Namely, that of possessing true sportsmanship.

To those who leave us this year we sincerely hope that they will have as successful a career elsewhere as they have had at Augusta.

*Best wishes
To all our good boys - Riley*

Ad Astra Per Aspera

ON JUNE 3,, 1925, Major Roller founded the only fraternity or organization of this nature in the academy, and since its inception it has been an outstanding fraternity from the standpoint of the personnel of its members and the regard with which it has been held by every A. M. A. boy. Each year ten boys are admitted to membership. They are selected by the vote of the ten oldest faculty members in the term of office and those members of the Ad Astra in the Corps of Cadets. The chief merit of the fraternity is the safeguarding of the spirit of loyalty of every cadet by rewarding those most outstanding, loyal, and contributing the most to the school in the four main departments: Academic, Athletic, Military, and Social.

The Motto: "Ad Astra per Aspera" means "To the Stars through Difficulty", and is the motto of A. M. A. In this notice is included all the qualities that go to make up the real men of tomorrow. All the A. M. A. boys are supposed to live up to this motto and we use it in the Ad Astra to mean simply our best. It is then no wonder that the boys cherish the pin and the honor of belonging to the selected group of the very best that the school has to offer. It is no wonder that those who have received this honor always live up to it in the fullest possible degree.

The fraternity keeps an accurate and up to date record of each of its members and the members co-operate in keeping this record. Each year new members are enrolled in the Big Book and new boys are included in the list of Augusta's best men. The selection of these boys is a matter of real concern on the part of those selecting them and their choice is announced on the morning of Finals. A new pin proudly shines on the breast of a deserving boy and in his heart shines a new light and a new sense of what the Latins meant when they said: "Ad Astra Per Aspera".

Our honorary members include Major C. S. Roller, Jr., and Capt. Parkins. Ned Somerville is the only cadet member in school this year.

Honor Committee

BY THE sheer name, Honor Committee, no one is in doubt as to what this signifies and the qualifications one must possess to become a member of this much desired organization. The members are elected from the corps and presided over by the President of the Student Body, who, upon election to this office, automatically becomes chairman of the Honor Committee. The same is the case with all the other officers of the student body.

To the Honor Committee this year we pay all due respects to their high standing character and interest in seeing that everything was done as it should be when honor was involved.

Let us look for the moment at the boys that went to make up this committee: President, Julian Quarles; Vice-President, Stuart Allen; Secretary, Dick Miller; Treasurer, Ned Somerville. From the first class two more were elected, "Tommy" Roller and "Herbie" Jacob; from the second class there were three, Cadets Mathews, J., Manry, and Wheeler, H. S.; from the third class three were elected, namely, "Tommy" Cauthorne, Tully, and Carlan. To these boys we owe all respect for their high ideals of honor and the carrying on of the old age tradition of the school "Without honesty there is not true life".

These men are responsible for all issues that arise in the school pertaining to honor and they try all cases that come before it. There is no half-way mark with the Honor Committee. The decision is either "Guilty" or "Not Guilty", no personal feeling is allowed to enter into the judgment these men deal upon the offender. If the individual brought before the Honor Committee receives the verdict of "Guilty" he is immediately expelled from the ranks of Augusta Military Academy and forbidden ever to return.

This year the corps was called upon voluntarily to repledge themselves to the whole-hearted support of our honor system and committee. There was not a man in the school that failed to sign the pledge on his own free will and accord. This shows at once the popularity of the Honor Committee at Augusta.

The jurisdiction of the Honor Committee covers every phase of cadet life in that nothing is done without a thought of whether or not it would meet with the requirements set down by the Honor Committee. In other words, the Honor Committee's rules are "Ten Commandments" to the cadets. Without these rules Augusta would not be in the position it now holds in comparison to other military schools of the country. The Honor System of Augusta is one of its greatest assets.

And now we have reached the place where the roads part. As we bid farewell to this year's Honor Committee we feel sure that never before has a more honest and upright group of young men made their departure from this school.

*Best luck "Loving"
"Battle"*

Y. M. C. A.

THE distinctive honor that belongs to the Y. M. C. A. at Augusta is that of being the oldest prep school organization of its kind in the country. From the time it was organized, which was soon after the founding of this school, it has not only increased in number but also in quality. This, and the co-operation of the Cadet Corps, has made the "Y" one of the foremost organizations in the school.

The good that is derived from the "Y" is immeasurable. From the beginning of school to the end the "Y" has striven to help the cadets in every way possible. At the first of the year the "Y" members mingle with the new cadets; show them about their new surroundings, and try to make each one feel at home. They are given the "Y" Handbook in which is printed all the rules and regulations and other articles that will enable them to enter more quickly into the routine of military life.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the "Y" during the year is providing the Christmas dinner for the Lynchburg Orphanage. The annual Christmas program of the "Y" is one of the best and most colorful programs of the year. At this program a collection is taken, to which every cadet responds with a glad and unselfish heart. The funds thus obtained are used to buy a plentiful and delicious dinner for the little unfortunate children in the orphanage at Lynchburg.

No one can say that the Y. M. C. A. at Augusta is lacking in social qualities, because each year the "Y" gives a dance for the cadets free of charge. This year's dance was a costume ball which went over with great success. The dance was well attended and with all the colorful costumes of the cadets and young ladies, it was a very pleasing picture. Prizes were awarded for originality and best costumes. There was also an ample supply of refreshments which were consumed with amazing rapidity.

We owe the greater part of the success of the "Y" this year to Capt. Webb, our faculty adviser, and to Mrs. Robinson, our pianist. The remaining credit belongs to our willing and competent President, Ned Somerville.

Recall

THE RECALL! This probably brings to your mind the beautiful annual of the Augusta Military Academy, but to the staff it brings memories of hard work, accidents, sickness, and rush. The production of this RECALL has brought one dramatic event after another in such rapid succession as to dismay the faint-hearted and to cause the most stout-hearted to become apprehensive. The old saying, "It never rains but it pours", would seem to have been well illustrated by the steady parade of adverse incidents that passed before the bewildered eyes of the staff.

The deluge opened with the sickness of Capt. McCray, our faculty adviser and chief driver. It was followed by the tangle among the photographers which gave way to the serious accident to the engraver, only to be followed by another accident involving our Editor-in-Chief. Sharing the Editor's misfortune, our Art Editor joined the casualty list, and the remaining members sought safety in the trash-baskets until Madame Fortune decided to smile for a change. Emerging from the wastebaskets and taking stock, we found that of the able-bodied members present none could account for several pictures, plans, and copies that were vital to the book.

During the "reconstruction period", someone happened to look at a calendar and to summon enough logic to notice that the time was drawing near. Indeed, Time seemed to be the only thing held sacrosanct by Dame Fortune and it had taken advantage of the confusion by steadily dwindling. Then began the rush. We know that the book shows it. We know that we show it. We trust that your judgment will be tempered with mercy.

After all these misfortunes, the staff led by Quarles, went earnestly to work to put the RECALL on the press at the earliest possible date. To co-ordinate all the various departments called for the combined and individual co-operation of each staff member. None shirked their part when the editor outlined his course and set the pace.

Jim Miller, the Business Manager, proved his capabilities not only in his own department but as an able assistant to Quarles. Many nights they labored untiringly over last minute details. Fortunately a great deal of responsibility was placed on Bob Ryers, who supervised the soliciting and editing of all the advertising, no small part in the very essential financial welfare of a publication.

"Mat" Mathews was very valuable in the extensive business correspondence necessary in the advertising department.

"Mouse" Matthews, commandeering the photographic department, crashed through with one of the best snap-shot sections in years—and despite difficulties assumed the added responsibility of taking individual pictures of all the graduates.

Aside from composing the various copper decorations in our book in his usual precise style, Frank Trotman lent his time freely to assisting in other departments.

Probably the most thankless job in the preparation of a book for the press is the typing of reams of copy to be delivered in record time. John Talbot performed this job most capably. Tommy Roller, Literary Editor, wrote, rewrote, and revised all write-ups, captions, and articles in order to present as true and interesting an annual as possible. The sports writers, Hollomon and Cauthorne, have covered during the whole year the innumerable sports events in order to present an unbiased collection of scores and statistics. At this opportunity we cannot but mention the work of Cadet Adam, our Humor Editor. He has truly outdone himself at his worthy task of provoking laughter. As will be seen by turning a few pages, there is a great amount of work to collecting and arranging the data for the directory, which appears in the rear of the annual. Nussear has worked long and hard to complete this directory and we believe you will find it to be one of the most concise ever presented.

The Ciceronian Literary Society

THE Ciceronian Literary Society was started many years ago by Prof. Charles Roller, the father of our present principals. It is the oldest literary society in the country among Prep Schools, and we like to think of it as the best. We may very truthfully say that the literary society had proved one of the most enjoyable as well as beneficial organizations in this school. It teaches a boy to put his thoughts in words and speak his mind before a group of people. In learning this the individual has learned something that will be an asset to him the remainder of his life. The society programs are made out by the secretary, approved by the president, and posted upon the bulletin boards. Each program consists of one declamation, three readers, and four debaters on each side of the question. After the program has been completed the house is given over to voluntary debate from the Corps. Judges are appointed by the president, the decisions rendered, and Major Roller is called upon for his official statement, supplemented by constructive criticism and advice.

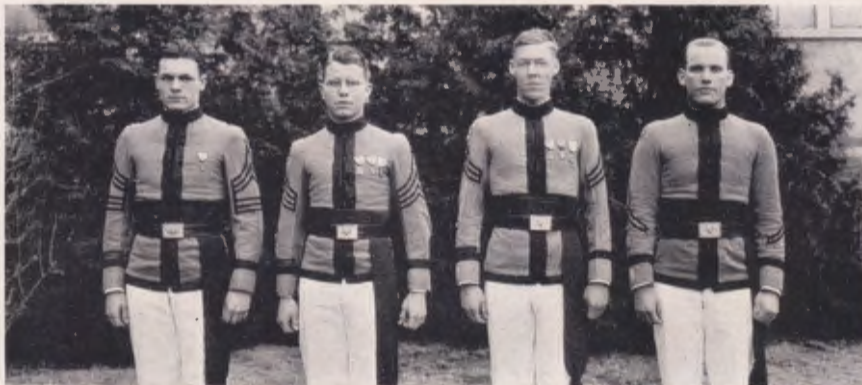

Many people think that the word "Courage" is only applied to physical exertion against odds such as one finds on the football field, baseball diamond, or in the squared circle; but they have been grossly misinformed, for no other word could be applied to the boy that stands upon his feet and talks intelligently to a group of people about some complex political or social matter of the day.

The officers for our society this year were as follows: President, Allen S.; Vice-President, Quarles; Secretary, Roller, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Wheeler, H. W. These men have served us well, and we believe that it will be some time before the Literary Society will be presided over by a more efficient group of young men. Their ability and integrity have never been doubted, and we expect to see them all some day leaders of men.

We wish to convey to Major Roller and other members of our faculty, who have helped us to make these enjoyable meetings both profitable and possible, our profoundest thanks. We are sure we have gained a great benefit from their aid and guidance. We also want to thank Major Roller for allowing us to meet so often this year and helping to make the meetings a success.

And now as the time is drawing to a close and the final debaters and declaimers will take their places upon the platform and speak forth their eloquence, we feel sure that all of them will be aided by their past experiences in the Literary Society. Let us again thank the officers for their help, for too much cannot be said about them. They have guided us through one of the most successful years of the Ciceronian Literary Society.

Junior Literary Society

ONE of Augusta's important trainings for the younger cadets is the Junior Literary Society. This was organized in 1920, and it has never ceased to be a successful and valuable society. It gives its members valuable training in the ways of Parliamentary law by having debates upon some chosen topic. These topics are not as involved as the ones in the Senior Literary Society, but they are topics which require thinking and at the same time they are interesting.

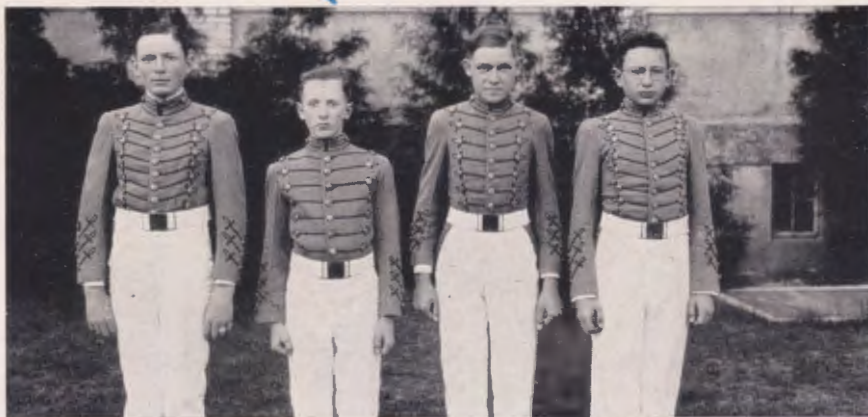

The main purpose of this society is to teach the younger boys how to stand on their feet and talk to a crowd of people without becoming confused, or having, as we term it, stage fright. This organization trains a boy to have confidence and trusts in himself when he is speaking before a group. This society is under the able direction of Captain Parkins and Lieutenant Roller. That the members take great interest is shown by the way in which they present their arguments to their audience. This year, especially, these boys have shown a remarkable improvement in oratory work.

These literary meetings are held almost every week and the time is used to the best advantage.

Approximately an hour is allowed to this meeting, so each speaker has a limited time in which to speak, but during this time there is absolute stillness and the speaker is assured of the best attention from every member at the meeting.

As president, Stuart Bolling has shown that he is quite able to preside over a literary society by displaying a quality of leadership that is essential to a boy in his position. Billy Knox is their competent vice-president. Due to an injury Billy was absent from some of the meetings, but he showed every mark of being a "great little office holder". Our secretary was a new cadet, but he proved himself worthy of this office, the minutes up to date and accurate. Last but not least is our mighty sergeant-at-arms, "Zeb" Hume, whose stern appearance kept everyone orderly at these meetings. Under the guidance of these officers, the society has shown a remarkable improvement in their program. This organization has proven its worth by some of its members taking part in the final celebration of the Ciceronian Literary Society. The way in which these boys perform more than shadows their accomplishments throughout the year.

*Best of luck, Gus. and may luck follow you always,

Orchestra

ALONG around the latter part of October, when school was in full swing, the thought of recreation, in the form of dancing, was discussed.

Cadet Prentiss, who had played in the orchestra the year previous, was asked if he could not do something about this problem. He immediately began working on it, and soon had the necessary men. Along came our first informal dance, and after it congratulations were extended to them for their fine work.

As most of the players will be graduating this June, we feel that you should know each member of this fine band, and so we will begin with the brilliant cornet player. Cadet Prentiss, a graduate this June, will long be remembered for his fine work in leading the orchestra and who was an important factor in its success. We shall find it hard to replace him next year. Hildy Hildebrand, the efficient partner to Prentiss, will also live in our memories as the second trumpeter. He is also leaving us in June, and they will long be remembered as two of the finest cornet players ever in the A. M. A. orchestra.

Our first saxaphones were handled by two distinguished players, Cadet Shomo and Cadet Gallagher. They alternated on the first saxaphone and we never were able to tell which was the better. However, we do know that they were both excellent players, and we are certainly pleased to hear that Cadet Shomo will be back again next year. So long, Gallagher, you will long be remembered for your excellent ability with the Sax.

Another one of our June graduates, Cadet M. Manch, is of tenor saxophone fame. His presentation of the way a tenor saxophone should be played was brilliant, and if we can ever replace him we shall consider ourselves lucky. The last of the saxophone trio is Gus Hall, and we hate to say that he, too, is leaving us. His playing of the second sax was a revelation, and it blended so well with the first sax that it was often very hard to distinguish them. Farewell, saxophonists, and may you keep up the excellent work that you have started.

The backbone of the whole orchestra was composed of such players as Judge Seaton with his banjo, Savage with the drums, Hoover at the bass horn, and Round at the piano. Judge, undoubtedly, is one of the best artists we have ever seen. Hoover, with the bass horn, was one of the main features of the time of the band. Both of these able players are leaving us, and how we are going to replace them is a problem. Tommy Savage, at the drums was one of the highlights. Tommy is also leaving us, and we shall miss his sparkling rhythm and various feats at the traps. We shall always remember him as "Glen" himself. The last member of this great orchestra is none other than the old "maestro", Bill Round. Bill often entertained us with his solos, and it certainly was great news when we heard that he would be back next year. Well, "masters of rhythm", goodbye and best of luck in the future with your music, and may you carry on then as you did here at Augusta.

Bible Class

WHEN we see that only one in every twenty-five people of the United States go to church, we realize that A. M. A. has a good Christian Corps. Not only does each boy attend church every Sunday, but over one in every six go to the weekly Bible Class. The class, started early last fall, has contributed much to the lives of many cadets. Once a week it met in number one "on the hill" where subjects prepared beforehand were presented. Each meeting had its highlights, but to mention them all in this article would take more space than is possible to give. This class is not compulsory, and this is probably a factor in its success.

Reverend McBryde, pastor of the Old Augusta Stone Church, sponsors this worthy organization. Each week he devotes part of his time to this class and discusses with them matters of religious importance. He talks over the different questions with the cadets and all members of the group express their opinions and discuss matters at length. In this way the ideas and criticisms of different types of boys are brought to light and all in the class are benefited by it. All that is vibrant with the life of our Lord is eagerly studied by these men; each one studying to learn more of Him and the laws that He handed to us through the Ten Commandments and the Bible. Each year finds the Bible Class becoming more popular and more men are receiving help from this organization. We sincerely hope that the good work is kept up in the future years and that the Bible Class becomes bigger and better than ever before.

We feel that we owe a note of thanks to Reverend McBryde for his work with this group, not only for this year but for the many previous years that he has conducted this class. Actually, he has endeavored not to teach as if in a classroom, but to present that beautiful subject in such a manner that each boy in the class will take it in. We need not state that he has been successful, for it is apparent.

We are justly proud of this class, not only because few schools have such an organization, but also because it brings that valuable factor, religion, closer to us. It is the theme of the Bible Class to bring to the eyes of those who are willing to seek the means of living a cleaner, more wholesome life than is found in many localities. It is instilling in modern youth the importance of God and the aid that religion and knowledge of the Bible gives one. We know that each meeting has helped all those present at it and hope that they will, in turn, lead a little better life and give the same aid to those who have been less fortunate in not having the opportunity to attend such a weekly gathering. In concluding, let us hope that those who are coming back next year will bring others to the class, and that it may continue with as much success as it has had in the past.

SOCIAL

TO THE eight harassed, but capable men who composed the cotillion club, we, the corps, bid a sorrowful goodbye, and we hope them all the success in later life that they had with the dances here at A. M. A. As we glance back over the social activities, we realize that we attended the best dances, heard the best orchestras, and enjoyed ourselves more this past year than ever before during our sojourn here at the Academy.

But wait, let's turn back the pages of the book of Father Time and live once again the pleasant moments spent while dancing in the lovely Memorial Gymnasium.

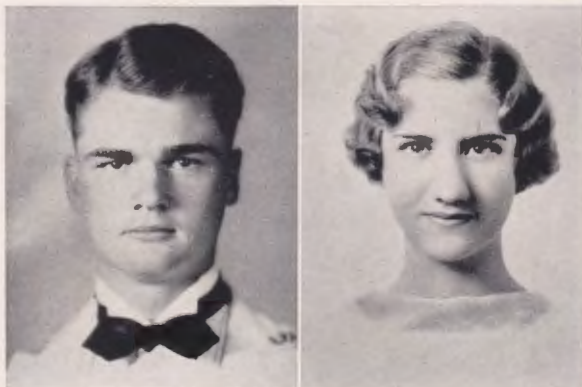

We were hardly more than settled in school and beginning to accustom ourselves to the military life, when the Opening Hops were announced. Arrangements were made for the orchestra, bids sent out, decorations chosen, and the date decided upon. Time seemed to fly and soon the dances were upon us. The Virginians, from Charlottesville, furnished the splendid music; opening with a soft, soothing waltz and closing with the school song, "Our Director". "Herbie" Jacob splendidly led the dance with the enchanting Miss Clara Bell as his partner. It is true that each and every attendant enjoyed himself to the fullest extent, but this, we were later to learn, was only the beginning.

Work, work, and more work! Bids, invitations, decorations, cleaning, and the Gymnasium is ready for a new set of dances—Thanksgiving.

Majestically situated on the stage of the Gym, we have none other than Bill Morrison with his original and most enjoyable rhythm. This dance, followed by an informal the following night, sets a new standard for enjoyment and recreation. It was at this dance that Frank Trotman triumphantly led the corps with the attractive and striking Miss Billy Argenbright as his feminine partner. It was also at the informal that the school orchestra first stepped into prominence. Exams, however, were slowly drawing near and the social events were quietly placed aside with the exception of some one or two informals.

Exams, Christmas vacation, and football were all a thing of the past now as we assembled again at the Academy for the remaining six months. However, it was not long before dances were again demanded by the cadets. An informal now and then, but that wasn't exciting enough, for the corps was waiting with great anxiety for the Mid-winters.

It is hardly believable that the days could pass so quickly, but time waits for no man, and so, before we knew it, Mid-winters were here. This time, we had on the stand the well known Cerveon dance orchestra from Pittsburgh. If we may say so, the officers were doing more than their share of the work. Both of these dances were a huge success and it is with these few words that we bid Mid-winters a fond "au revoir".

Now, we must rest, light up a cigarette, stretch out, and dream. Our thoughts wander back to the new acquaintances that were no more than made, and like a cloud that blows away, are soon to be forgotten. Some, however, will always remain in the minds of a few of us. True it was certainly great, while it lasted, but it ended entirely too soon. It really is a shame that they are now only a pleasant memory.

No sooner were the Mid-winters over than in came spring, bringing to us the never to be forgotten Easters, and setting a new height of entertainment and music. This set of dances, too, justly places the officers of the Cotillion Club on a higher pedestal of glory.

Co-operation doesn't describe the reaction of the corps to these dances. The whole school entered into them, making them go over one hundred per cent. The boys were so enthusiastic and interested in these dances that one of the best orchestras in the south was obtained—The Hi-plane Pilots. This choice group of musicians hail from dear old Richmond. Now we are near the end of our rope, but before closing let's compliment the school orchestra for so nobly filling the place of the orchestra of the preceding night, and so nobly entertaining us.

In saying goodbye, we wish to extend to the laborous officers, our heartiest, most gracious thanks. We have the sincere hope that they will visit their "alma mater" in the future, and if they do, we all will give them the warmest and most sincere reception conceivable.

FINAL BALL

EARLY in April, "Herby" Jacob was elected President of the Final Ball. A more fortunate choice could not have been made from the Corps, for "Herby" has shown that he cannot only handle a platoon, but that he is a real leader of men. He was assisted by Frank Trotman, President of the Cotillion Club, who had shown his ability to put over dances by the many successful informals and formals throughout the year. With such men as leaders, the success of the Final Ball was assured.

After numerous inquiries had been made of orchestras, florists, and the like, the music for the Ball was obtained, and favors never before equalled in their originality were bought. This year's music was supplied by that ever famous Band of Paul Tremaine's, from Lonely Acres, New Jersey, who has become famous by his ability to play lilting melodies and rag-time tunes.

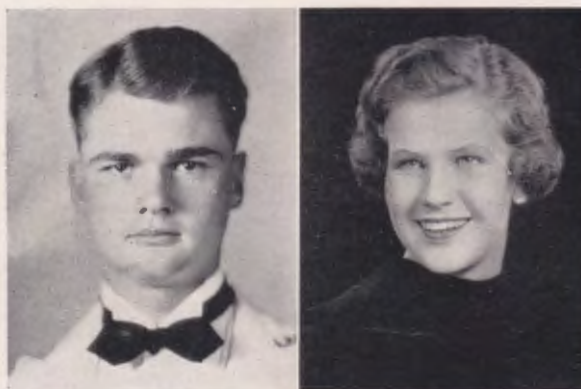

After some deliberation between the officers and committee it was decided that fatigue coats should be worn by all in the figure. This was done so in order that a strictly military figure could be maintained, as has been the aim of the figure in past years.

Shortly after the fundamental preparations for the Ball had been made by the leader, Major Robinson, assisted by the committee, organized and arranged a figure which far surpassed those of former years. The nucleus of the Battalion, of which there were some fifty-odd, comprised this memorable sight. Each cadet's partner in the figure wore a white evening gown with a corsage of red roses on her shoulder. It was due to this uniformity that the figure presented such a gorgeous appearance. The partners of the leaders carried beautiful bouquets of red and white roses.

The Memorial Gymnasium in which this memorable sight was held was built in 1928 dedicated to the Cadets for their pleasure and enjoyment. It was strikingly decorated with bunting, flags, blue and white ribbons and lighted by decorious lamps. The distinguished chaperones and their escorts lent dignity and prestige to the beauty of the occasion, and we feel that without their presence there would have been something lacking in the Final Ball. The orchestra in full dress surrounded by their instruments blended perfectly into the picture of pomp and ceremony.

An attempt to adequately describe this occasion would indeed be hopeless, as one feels there are not enough adjectives to properly portray this wonderful sight. Let it be said, though, that with the aid of the committee and the support of the cadets, we feel that the Ball went over with more success than any previous one held here at the Academy. From the first piece played to the last, everyone there enjoyed themselves to the highest extent possible. There were fifteen specials, and three times as many break dances, which took, as one could observe, the better part of the evening. The rest of the time was spent in partaking of the various and delicious refreshments which were offered by the Dance Committee, and which were served in the Sunken Garden. And also a word of praise is due to the men who were on the Committee of this Final Ball. They were "Herbie" Jacob, "Eddie" Crass, Frank Trotman, "Dick" Miller, Stuart Allen, "Ned" Somerville, "Pres" Quarles, and "Les" Higbee.

CADET HERBERT JACOB

MISS OLIVIA WOMBLE

Leaders Final Ball

CADET EDWARD CRASS      MISS MARJORIE BEASLEY
Assistant Leaders Final Ball

Before ending we must speak a word about our Assistant Leader, "Eddie" Crass. "Eddie" was rolling along merrily from Staunton after having the above picture taken when there happened a slight upset from which he awoke in the hospital. No, not the Western State, but one of another description. To the dismay of the whole school, it was found that our capable Assistant Leader could not recover from his injuries in time for the Ball. Well, "Eddie", all joking aside, we have really missed your fun-loving ways and capable hands, and when we see you again it is with the hope that you will be up on your feet.

As dawn was breaking through the valley, the Final Ball of 1935, the largest dance of the year, came to a close with the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" ringing in our ears. There remains with us many fine memories and perhaps more thoughts of other dances that we have attended here in our previous years, but none can compare with nor will live in our memories as long as this, Final Ball.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Flash—flash—flash—Rod tunes a little closer, flash—flash—flash. Ah, a sound! Flash—crackle—sput, he still tunes closer. It is in the day when the radio has progressed to the stage when one can find out anything one desires by merely tuning in and turning the dial until one hears it. M. B. Roderic, former A. M. A. Faculty Officer, is trying to learn the whereabouts of the members of the class of 1935. He listens. Ah, now he can hear plainly. And this is what comes to his ears:

Rip Carlan, campaigning for Mayor of Galax, is promising the people fifty feet of sidewalk on both sides of the street.

Eddie Mathews is working in a barber shop on down town New York, demonstrating his new discovery, "Fuzzy Wuzzy" hair grower.

Hilde Hildebrand is posing for collar and shirt advertisements.

Stuart Allen has recently opened up "Stew's Hash House", a new restaurant in Staunton. His specialty is stew and specially prepared veal.

J. B. Mann has just secured a job selling ladies' unmentionables in a department store in Charlottesville.

Jug Prentiss has finally reached his ambition. He has an orchestra and is playing in "The Bottle Beer Joint" in South Chicago.

Martini Manch and Gus Hall are running a business together. Martini is playing the thin man in a circus and Gus is the barker.

Herbie Jacob is running a column in a newspaper and is giving a fifteen-minute talk over the radio telling all the dirt in and around Fort Defiance.

Cookie Cook, who, after years of hard labor, was finally promoted to assistant turtle master in an aquarium in Washington.

Julian Quarles is a shyster lawyer and is now working hard trying to get Flute Hodges out of jail on a bigamy charge.

Eddie Crass, who used all of his influence, was eventually given charge of number 3 Coca-Cola truck.

Minnie Adam is a great engineer and is forming plans for a bridge to span Lilly Creek in order that the A. M. A. cadets can march to church on Sunday.

Dickie Wilson is playing in Shakespearean plays in Trenton. His latest success was when he played Shylock in the Merchant of Venice.

Davie Davenport has recently put Monte Carlo out of business when he rolled a seven in the grand finale of a good night's work. He is the most successful man of his class.

Les Higbee is in charge of a flea circus that is taking the country by storm.

Frank Trotman has recently been elected president of Ethiopia and is going to put a new military system into his grand national army.

Mouse Matthews, after a very serious love affair with a beautiful southern belle, has retired to the mountains of West Virginia as a hermit. She done him wrong.

Basil Tully is the leader of a Russian revolt and is about to usurp the throne as Tsar.

Pug Hopkins is driving a beer truck on a route from Hagerstown to Martinsburg.

Billy McClung was shining shoes in a shine-shop, but has recently been promoted to shining boots. He is rising in his profession.

Nuzzy Nussear, who after all these years, was promoted to elevator boy in a hotel in Philadelphia. You can see he's going to the top.

To "Lue" the claret swallower of Bonnum and Bailey's great sideshow. May you never get a sore throat.

AFTER TAPS

We would recommend Jim Shorts for Valedictorian next year because of his excellent record and because he has been with us for more than twenty years. Also he has had very few honors since he has been here, and he is a very fine speaker.

A Toast—Here's to happy days; any old fool can have a good time at night.

Captain Deane (in Lit. Class): "Everyone pass his papers to the front, have a carbon sheet under each one, and I will correct them all at the same time."

Farnsworth still maintains this is no place for him.

We wonder if the Corporal-of-the-Guard will be carrying a rifle next year. Also if the O. D. will be wearing a sling.

JOKES

New Cadet: "O. D. sir."

O. D.: "Well, what's on your mind now?"

New Cadet: "Mind heck, they're all over the bed."

Major Roller: "Farnsworth, do insects ever get in your corn down in Kentucky?"

Farnsworth: "Yes, sir, but we just fish them out and drink it anyway."

She: "I fainted, they brought me to; so I fainted again."

He: "Why?"

She: "Well, they brought me two more."

Lost Balloonist: "Ahoy, where am I?"

Dickerson: "Heh, heh, you can't fool me, by gum. You're right up there in that little basket."

Cason: "Why do you look so pained?"

Jim Miller: "I'm lazy."

Cason: "What's that got to do with it?"

Jim Miller: "I'm sitting on a lit cigarette."

Any Cadet: "Pass the huckleberry pie, please."

C. W.: "That's not huckleberry pie. Shoo!"

Farnsworth: "Why does that dog sit there and watch me eat?"

Greely: "You have the same plate he usually eats from."

She (gasping): "Oh, please, use two hands."

He: "Can't, gotta drive with one."

Weiner: "Did you see anything marked down at the store?"

Fernon: "Yes, the red elevator globes."

Major Roller: "I want a little attention."

Voice from the rear: "You're getting as little as possible."

Quarles: "Trotman, where are my glasses?"

Trotman: "Right where you emptied them last night."

Aged Man: "There's a cadet here named Farnsworth. May I see him? I'm his grandfather."

O. D.: "You're just too late. He's gone to your funeral."

Higbee: "Hic!"

Crass: "Hic!"

Higbee: "Don't talk back to me."

She: "Dear, your kisses drive me to drink."

He: "Gin?"

She: "No, listerine."

New Cadet: "Did you ever eat any horse meat?"

Fourth Year Cadet: "No. I always remember the fate of poor Dugan, when he was at Augusta. He was eating a piece of meat in the Mess Hall and somebody yelled 'Whoa'—He choked to death."

Greely: "Aha, my dear Crass, from the odors I smelleth about you, I judgeth that your Easter Dances date hath arrived."

Crass: "What are you talking about? I just came from cavalry drill."

Quarles: "Has that girl lost her dress or am I seeing things?"

Edge: "Both."

He: "Have a smoke?"

She: "Sir, I go to Mary Baldwin."

He: "Pardon me, have a chew."

Mark: "I'd like to be the fat man in a circus."

Felts, F.: "You have what it takes."

He: "How are you this evening, Honey?"

She: "All right, but lonely."

He: "Good and lonely?"

She: "No, just lonely."

He: "I'll be right over."

Cadet: "Ed, bring me another sandwich and a paperweight."

Ed Sites: "Why the paperweight?"

Cadet: "The last sandwich blew away."

Customer: "Where's the menu?"

Waitress: "Down the aisle and first door to the left."

Major Roller (in chemistry class): "Keane, what is a person called who brings you in contact with the spirit world?"

Keane: "A bartender, sir."

Junk Man: "Any old beer bottles to sell, Lady?"

Lady: "Do I look as if I drank beer?"

Junk Man: "Any old vinegar bottles, Lady?"

Suitor: "Sir, I wish to marry your daughter."

Dad: "Young man, do you drink?"

Suitor: "Thanks a lot, sir, but let's settle this other thing first."

Father (to daughter coming in at 3 a. m.): "Good morning, child of Satan."

Daughter (sweetly): "Good morning, Father."

She: "Your hands remind me of a mystery play."

He: "In what way do my hands remind you of a mystery play?"

She: "Creepy."

Wheeler: "She turned off all the lights 'cept a funny green table lamp."

Second Same: "Then what happened?"

First Same: "Well, I've been driving a car too long not to know what a green light means."

She: "I'm the Monroe Doctrine type."

He: "Zat so?"

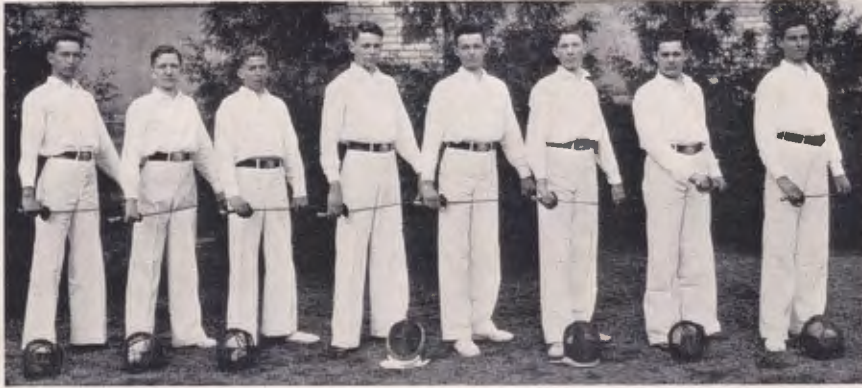

She: "Yes, hands off."

IF YOU WANT TO SUCCEED!

AS a young man who looks forward to a successful business or professional career, when school and college days are over, you cannot learn too early to save money. Here are six sound reasons why your first investment should be life insurance:

- 1 By the time you are an old man you will have lived through at least five depressions. And depressions do not depreciate life insurance savings.
- 2 Although a man can save his money by other methods, few of us do.
- 3 You do not need to save money to buy life insurance, but you can buy life insurance to save money.
- 4 Life insurance puts to your credit what you hope and expect to have if you live and if you are successful with your investments.
- 5 The scrapping age arrives some day and when it does arrive there must be money or there will be misery.
- 6 Men die too soon or live too long for any other form of investment than life insurance.
